Nippons Bomb Canton; 2000 Slain

U. S. PROTEST IS IGNORED

CANTON, China, June 4.—(UP)—Canton was subjected today to another terrific bombing which caused casualties estimated at nearly 2000.

Despite British and United States protests against the bombing of civilian populations, the war planes circled and dived over the city, spreading carnage.

Medical workers and the rescue corps tried frantically to cope with the mounting casualties.

Women, Children Die

Eight Japanese planes flew over the international quarter, apparently reconnoitering, although some bombs were dropped in the western section of the city near the government building.

A survey of the city disclosed that many bombs had been dropped far from military or government buildings. A correspondent saw what seemed to be countless bodies on the sidewalks, many of them women and children.

Blasts Terrific

One small boy lay open eyed, with an expression of surprise frozen in his still face. Many of the bodies were nude. Clothing was blown off by the concussions.

A primary school mistress told the United Press that she marched 100 children into the school yard just before bombs struck the building and that only one child was killed.

Fire at Raiders

Anti-aircraft guns were active during the raid, the invading planes presenting clear targets against the sky. It was the first time they had been effective against raiders.

The Canton river bridge was damaged in the raid. The power station in the west section of the city was in darkness tonight. The other river side power station was not hit, although bombs fell all around it.

Worst Raid

Windows of several government buildings and those in the Sun Yat-Sen memorial were shattered. The Chinese press described the raid as the worst thus far. No escape of the city has been reported. Fires raged in many sections.

Word was received from Hankow, the temporary capital, that responsible Chinese officials there expect to evacuate 200,000 persons within three weeks, to avoid a repetition of the aerial massacre in Canton and Chenchow.

The refugees will be divided into categories, women, children and wounded soldiers being in the first class.

Heiress Loses Heart Balm Suit

LOS ANGELES, June 4.—(UP)—Mrs. Thelma Clark, heir to a Montana copper fortune, today was ordered by the district court of appeals to pay $22,500 heart balm to Mrs. Christina Fitzpatrick, for alienation of the affections of her husband, Michael W. Fitzpatrick.

In upholding the award made in Los Angeles by Superior Judge Elliott J. Craig, the court of appeals held that the amount involved was not so excessive as to shock the sense of justice and the jury was well informed in the case.

Mrs. Clark is the widow of the late William Andrews Clark, grandson of the former Senator Clark of Montana. Fitzpatrick was pursuing a Panama cruise when he met the wealthy widow and assertedly became infatuated with her.

FDR Spend Bill Passes

WASHINGTON, June 4.—(UP)—The senate gave President Roosevelt a $3,723,000,000 appropriation and authorization bill today to finance—and extend—his $5,000,000,000 lending-spending program against depression.

Senate approval of the bill, which had been passed by the house, came a few minutes before midnight last night by a vote of 60 to 10. It made possible the adjournment of congress by next week. Senate Majority Leader Alben W. Barkley, D., Ky., expected quick conference agreements on this bill and the wages and hours bill. They are the only major pieces of legislation remaining.

No Restrictions

After 11 days of attack in the senate by the combined forces of Republicans and anti-New Deal Democrats, the recovery bill emerged unscathed. No restrictions were placed on the spending and lending of vast sums to create jobs for approximately 4,000,000 of the unemployed army which, Mr. Roosevelt said, has increased since he requested the money six weeks ago.

As approved by the senate the legislation is a triumph for the president, who had demanded a free hand in spending the huge fund, and a stinging defeat for

SOUTHWEST SWEEP BY STORM; 4 KILLED

KANSAS CITY, Mo., June 4.—(UP)—Tornado winds, rain and lightning lashed the southwest today, taking the lives of at least four persons and inflicting property damage amounting to hundreds of thousands of dollars.

The winds leveled brick business buildings and residences; the rains sent streams surging from their banks, inundating thousands of acres of rich farm land; lightning killed four men, two of them spectators at the Kansas City open golf tournament and two of them oil field workers at Wharton, Tex.

Score Injured

More than 20 persons were injured by winds that swept through southwestern Oklahoma and northern Texas. Three others were injured by lightning, with one reported in serious condition.

Wichita Falls, Tex., bore the brunt of the 60-mile-an-hour wind. Fourteen persons were injured, several critically, at the KMA oil field, on the outskirts of Wichita Falls. Evelyn Lorange, 14, and Beatrice Smith, 15, received fractured skulls and other injuries when their homes were damaged by wind. Other persons were taken to hospitals at Valley View and Iowa Park, near the oil field.

Spectators Killed

Death of two men and injury to two others at the Hillcrest Country Club golf course where many of the nation's best known golfers were competing, resulted in a postponement of the $5000 tournament yesterday.

William Boyle, Eddie Critchfield, Tom Cunningham and Lester Alpin were in the group of approximately 100 persons gathered about the ninth green at the course. A

Farmer Killed In Dynamite Blast

NEVADA CITY, Cal., June 4.—(UP)—Stumbling with a box of dynamite in his hands, Lloyd Widner, 35, was killed last night on his small ranch at Indian Flat, three miles west of here.

Mrs. Ellen Widner, the man's widowed mother, said he was carrying the dynamite out of a shed to blast stumps. It was thought a recent leg injury may have caused him to fall.

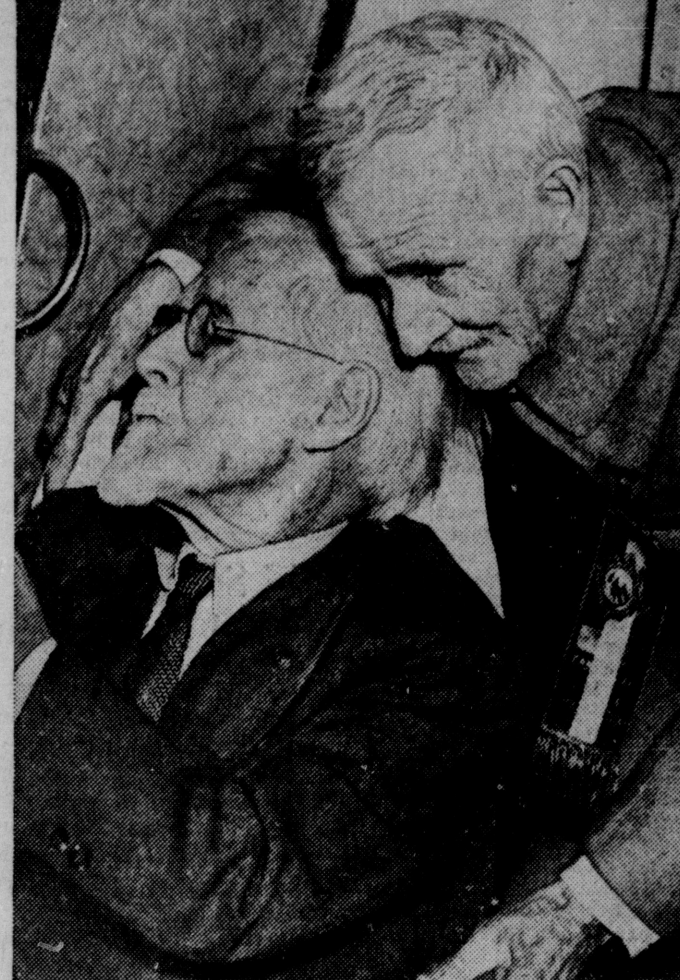

The farmer's body was shattered by the blast, which was plainly heard in Nevada City. A year ago while enroute from Kansas the victim's young wife died while crossing the high Sierras. The high altitude brought on a heart attack.

Pair Honeymoon In Reno Jail

RENO, Nev., June 4.—(UP)—William Kenneth Heide, 24, San Francisco, and Mrs. Gertrude Peterson Elde, 15, Alameda, Cal., today awaited arrival of Alameda officers after being forced to spend their wedding night in the Reno jail.

Reno police detained the couple shortly after they were married by Judge B. F. Currier. A teletype message from Alameda advised local authorities that the girl was under the legal age for marrying and did not have her parents' consent. Mrs. Heide told the marriage license clerk she was 18.

Fly to Honor War Comrades

Flying high over the bloody fields of Gettysburg, where 75 years ago their comrades-in-arms clashed in the greatest battle of the Civil War, the two onetime enemies pictured above united to honor their slain companions. Union Private William H. Jackson, 95, at left, and Confederate Major Robert E. Wilson, 92, shown at right, flew in an airliner from Washington to drop wreaths of poppies over the Gettysburg battlefield.

NEW MOTOR, RESULT OF 20 YEARS WORK, INVENTED BY SANTA ANAN

Perfection of a new engine, the result of 20 years of experiment and constant work—an engine that promises to revolutionize the motor industry, was announced today by its inventor, H. M. Kinslow, 702 East First street, Santa Ana.

Kinslow, who first became interested in motors during the days of Glenn L. Martin's experiments with airplanes, has been working on an idea based chiefly on the "laws of nature." Now, that idea has born fruit, and he is ready to present to the public an engine that will go five times as far to a gallon of fuel than any contemporary motor; at the same time, the engine will operate efficiently on a variety of fuels including natural gas, kerosene, diesel oils, or any combination of fuels.

The inventor also has discovered as the result of recent tests that the engine does not necessarily need petroleum fuels to operate. Uses Nature's Laws

Some 20 years of study and experimentation with gas engines of various types brought out facts which indicated to Kinslow that by designing an engine to take advantage of the natural reactions of gas explosions and to work with them, not against them, would result in far greater efficiency, more power, lighter weight, and utter simplicity.

It was Kinslow's opinion that the engineers had been building engines and then attempting to fit the chemistry of explosions to the engines. In other words, to alter nature's laws to fit a man-made machine. Kinslow felt that far better results could be attained by designing the machine to fit the natural chemistry of the explosion—to conform the engine to the laws of nature.

Better Than Expected

After numerous experiments were made indicating the principles to be followed an engine was designed which would conform to the chemistry of the explosion. The results far exceeded Kinslow's expectations.

The first engine developed by Kinslow was a single cylinder water-cooled engine using conventional 4 cycle parts, but with the elimination of many complicated mechanisms. This engine was designed to fire every revolution instead of every other revolution, but contrary to two stroke cycle engines, this engine was built with an open crankcase. The entire series of actions intake, compression, explosion, exhaust, take place in the cylinder. The crankcase has no more part in the functioning of this engine than it would in a four stroke cycle engine.

Charging of the cylinder is by conventional means through a cam operated inlet valve, connected through a conventional intake pipe with an ordinary carburetor. The cam is on the crankshaft and therefore opens and closes the inlet valve once every revolution, thus giving the engine a charge to fire every revolution. A conventional ignition system is used for starting only, as the engine runs without ignition. The ignition is on the crankshaft.

U.S.C. Wins IC4-A Meet

NEW YORK, June 4.—(UP)—Southern California's Trojans exceeded all expectations in winning the 62nd annual I. C. 4-A track and field championship today with a total of 471-2 points.

The Trojans scored in every one of ten events in which they participated, winning two titles—100 yard dash and high jump—and tying for the pole vault crown. Their strength, however, came in rolling up points for places.

Michigan State was second with 24 points while California was third with 221-2. Pittsburgh, the defenders, finished fourth with 201-2.

Final summaries:

Shot put: Won by Brill NYU (61 ft. 3 1/4 in.); Ryan, Columbia (50 ft. 2 in.); 2nd: Swenson, Boston college (49 ft. 8 3/8 in.); 3rd: Fisher, Southern California (48 ft. 1 1/2 in.); 4th: Bazyk, Pittsburgh (48 ft. 1 1/4 in.); 5th. ### TRUSTEES NAMED IN SCHOOL ELECTIONS

Marked by a vigorous write-in campaign in the Fullerton Union High school district, election of school trustees in 42 elementary and nine high school districts was held yesterday. The Santa Ana district did not take part in the election.

Except in the Laguna Beach and Placentia unified districts, trustees were elected for three year terms. In the unified districts terms are for four years.

In the majority of the districts candidates were without opposition.

Re-elected

Claude Ridgway, of La Habra, was returned to the board of trustees of the Fullerton Union High school by voters yesterday, with a vote of 885, as against 643 write-in votes for W. T. Rodger, who was chosen to run the first of the week.

The vote by districts follows: Fullerton, Ridgway, 419; Rodger, 537; Yorba Linda: Ridgway, 51; Rodger, 43; Buena Park: Ridgway, 43; Rodger, 8; Orange: Rodger, 18; Rodger, 26. In La Habra, Ridgway received all of the 354 votes cast.

Retention of Ridgway maintains the old agreement between districts for selection of a candidate from each of the districts. Had Rodger been elected it would have given Fullerton two representatives, since Harold Hale, president, is from Fullerton; and A. E. Stewart, senior member of the board, is from Orange. Mrs. Sidney L. Chapman represents Yorba Linda and John Schiller, Buena Park, while re-election of Ridgway provides a member from La Habra.

Voters of the Capistrano Union High school district elected a new member yesterday, Leroy M. Strang, San Clemente contractor.

MR. MARCO POLO WAS A PIKER, COMPARED TO LOCAL TRAVELER

If there is anything Richard (Dick) Pearce Jr., of the Rossmore hotel, likes better than traveling, it is more traveling.

Pearce was home today from a voyage that took him from Santa Ana to the Panama Canal to New Orleans to Africa to India to the Orient and back to Santa Ana. He was gone seven months and knocked off 41,000 miles.

Already, however, Pearce is looking forward to another trip. Place and time undetermined, but eventually.

Left In November

Son of the Rossmore lessee, Pearce left the city last November 9. After the jump through the canal, his boat went to Trinidad. Then came Capetown, and eight other stops in Africa, going as far north as Zanzibar. Pearce was in India nearly four weeks, his itinerary including inland places which he made by cycle, "the way you really get next to a country."

Next came Sumatra, Strait Settlements, Biliton, Java, Celebes, Borneo, Then the Philippines, Hong Kong, Canton, Foochow, Shanghai and five weeks in Japan. He came straight home from Yokohama on the Japanese liner, Kano Maru.

Japanese "War-Minded"

At Kanazawa, Japan, Pearce visited a week with Mr. and Mrs. Delmer Brown, A. Santa Ana.

FORMER SANTA ANAN IS NAMED INSURANCE COMPANY DIRECTOR

William Eugene Hays, son of Mr. and Mrs. Rolla R. Hays of Santa Ana, has just received notice of his appointment to the newly created position of director of agencies of the New England Mutual Life Insurance company of Boston. He will make his home in Boston.

Announcement of the appointment of the Santa Ana man to the high post was made today by George Willard Smith, president of the New England company.

Hays began his business career in Santa Ana following his graduation from Stanford University 12 years ago when he entered the insurance business with his father. On August 1, 1932 the firm of Hays, Hudson and Bradstreet was formed as general agents for Southern California for the New England Mutual Life Insurance company and William Eugene Hays was placed in charge of the Los Angeles office, where he has been located ever since.

Takes Brother's Job

In September of last year, Rolla R. Hays, Jr., also was called to the Los Angeles office in charge of the Agents Training department. He will now take over the responsibilities which his brother gives up in accepting the position in Boston.

Smith in releasing notice of young Hays' appointment to the Boston post declared that "by training, actual experience and natural aptitude William Eugene Hays is well qualified for his important home office responsibility."

"Gene," as he is known to his hundreds of Santa Ana friends, is married to the former Mae Sexton, niece of County Assessor Jim Sleeper. They have two children, a son and a daughter. Hays and his family will leave Southern California for their future home in Boston during the latter part of July.

The office Hays takes over is one of the highest in the New England Mutual Insurance company.

JURISDICTION IS DEFINED BY COURT

A decision settling a moot question in the administration of public relief and regarded as of state-wide importance was rendered late yesterday by Superior Judge K. Scovel, who ruled that superior court has jurisdiction of suits brought by the county against the children of relief beneficiaries, to recover funds advanced to the parent.

Judge Scovel's decision, which reverses previous rulings by all superior court judges of the county, including himself, upheld a position taken by Deputy District Attorney J. Eugene Walker, who has stuck to his contention despite the adverse court rulings and finally has won his point.

Special Proceeding

Judge Scovel held, in the suit brought by the county against Ray J. Wilkins, to recover $105 advanced to the defendant's father, Edward Wilkins, that the action was a special proceeding and that therefore the legislature had authority to designate the court in which it could be instituted; also that since the county was a party to the suit, and inasmuch as it involved recovery of public funds, it properly belonged within jurisdiction of superior court.

Previous court rulings have been below ordinary superior court jurisdiction, the suits should be filed in justice court. The right of the legislature to enact special laws affecting the jurisdiction of justice courts also had been questioned.

Canyon Highway Agreement Made

Orange county approved an agreement with the state late yesterday for relocation of Santa Ana canyon highway around Prado dam site, the county supervisors authorizing Chairman Willard Smith to sign a contract with the state department of public works.

The project is part of the county's obligation under the U. S. army's $15,000,000 flood control project. Under its contract with the state, the county will pay the cost of relocation and reconstruction of the highway, except that the state will supply right-of-ways and easements, and the extra cost of widening the highway to four lanes. Bids will be opened on the contract in two weeks, it was said.

Plan To Consider Plea of Cities

While the meeting will be unofficial and in the form of an informal conference, the county supervisors will get together at 4 p. m. Monday to discuss the request of Orange county cities for an allocation of $100,000 of the county's fiscal tax receipts from the state. Formal action on the request may be taken at the regular board meeting Tuesday, it was said.

Promoted

William Eugene Hays, son of Mr. and Mrs. Rolla Hays of Santa Ana, who has been appointed "Director of Agencies" for the New England Mutual Life Insurance company. He will leave next month to take up his new duties in Boston.

WHITTIER RESIDENT IS TRAFFIC VICTIM

Orange county's 29th traffic victim of 1938 died shortly before 4 a. m. today in Murphy hospital. Whittier, from skull fracture and internal injuries, officials reported.

He Is Ed Qualls, 55, 422 Palm avenue, Whittier, whose car collided with one operated by R. E. Jernstrom, 41, tourist from Rapid City, South Dakota, at the intersection of Central and La Mirada avenues, a mile west of La Habra.

accident occurred at 7:20 p. m. yesterday.

According to California highway patrol officers who investigated, Jernstrom, 37, and Elaine Jernstrom, 13, both of Rapid City, and Myrna Cant, 25, 801 North Avenue, Sierra Madre, were injured in the collision. Jernstrom suffered shock.

Mr. Qualls, according to investigation, was driving easterly on Central, Jernstrom, north on La Mirada, when the accident occurred.

According to reports from witnesses, Jernstrom stated he could not remember whether or not he made the boulevard stop at the intersection before the crash.

Because Mr. Qualls died in Los Angeles county, the inquest will be held by a Los Angeles deputy coroner, at Whittier.

Murder Suspect Grilled In East

CHICAGO, June 4.—(UP)—Howard Green, 20-year-old Negro, who was implicated in the slaying of a Los Angeles woman and her daughter by Robert Nixon, 38, Negro, may be returned to California, Assistant State's Attorney John S. Boyle, said today.

He said Nixon, who has confessed the slaying of three Chicago women and Mrs. Edna Worden and her 12-year old daughter, Marguerite, in their Los Angeles home in April, 1937, would be tried here. Boyle said he will ask indictment of Nixon next week for the murder of Mrs. Florence Johnson, most recent of the young Negro's victims.

Detectives Thomas Bryan and G. E. Gaskill of the Los Angeles police department said they have evidence that Green was with Nixon when the Worden crime was committed. They said they would suggest that extradition proceedings be started for his removal. Green denied any participation in the slayings when he faced Nixon last night.

State To Build Prison at Chino

LOS ANGELES, June 4.—(UP)—Construction of a $4,000,000 state prison for first offenders will start before July 1 on a former sugar beet farm south of Chino.

The state prison commission yesterday ended nine years of controversy over the question of a Southern California penitentiary by authorizing purchase of the 2566 acre site 30 miles east of here.

The federal Works Progress Administration will supply $1,700,000 of the cost on condition work starts this month.

SNOW FACES OUSTER MOVE

Assistant Welfare Director Belle K. Spangler and her subordinate, Mrs. Mary Lyons, dismissed by Director Jack W. Snow, were ordered reinstated late yesterday by the county supervisors, in a heated session that discussed the suggestion for "dismissing" Director Snow but finally delayed decision until next Tuesday's board meeting.

The suggestion for Snow's dismissal came from Chairman Willard Smith, of Orange, but did not come to a vote, since the chairman lacks the right to present a motion to the board. Supervisor John Mitchell, of Garden Grove, whose motion to reinstate Mrs. Spangler and Mrs. Lyons was carried by a vote of 3 to 2, suggested that action on Snow's case be deferred to next week.

Snow Silent

Meanwhile, Director Snow declined to make a statement whether he would reinstate the dismissed employees in compliance with the board order, legality of which was questioned in some quarters. Such question was raised in view of a legal opinion read to the board by Assistant District Attorney Preston Turner yesterday.

The opinion, prepared by Deputy District Attorney Harold McCabe, interpreted the county ordinance, 238, which establishes the welfare department, as providing that the welfare director can discharge employees without authority of the supervisors, although he is not a county official but an employee and agent of the board.

Amendment Suggested

Mrs. Lyons told of receiving a board that it could quickly gain control of the dismissal of employees by amending the ordinance. The board, however made no move to amend it and proceeded to order Snow to reinstate the two women.

This action followed a complete and categorical denial by Mrs. Spangler of charges made against her by Snow, including disloyalty and insubordination, borrowing from subordinate employees, and irregularities of accounts.

Asserts Loyalty

"I have never been anything but loyal," said Mrs. Spangler, who said that she had loaned money to employees that she had borrowed from them, and that there was nothing more than the usual borrowing back and forth of small sums such as occur in any office.

Mrs. Lyons told of receiving a verbal dismissal notice from Snow, and asking for the reason, eventually requesting a hearing. Snow then told her she might resign, she said. She advised him she would wait until yesterday's meeting, and yesterday morning, she said, he appeared with a witness, Kay Jeffries, and handed her a written notice of dismissal, dated a day earlier. The only reason he gave her, she said, was that he had "heard she had said things about him." This she denied.

Successor Chosen

Incidentally, at yesterday's meeting, it was disclosed by Supervisor Steele Finley that Snow has slated Kay Jeffries to succeed Mrs. Spangler as assistant director.

Attorney L. W. Blodgett, of Santa Ana, representing Mrs. Spangler, addressed the board at Finley's request, defending Mrs. Spangler's record and urging the board to sustain Finley, as welfare committee member, in his opposition to Snow's action. During the debate that followed, Blodgett took occasion to declare that there is no truth in the charges made against Mrs. Spangler and that Supervisors N. E. West and Harry D. Riley, who voted to sustain Snow, were "answerable for innuendoes, slurs and inferences" against her. The remark brought applause from the audience that filled the board room.

Spectators Join

So heated became the discussion that two spectators even joined in it. One, said to be a resident of Costa Mesa, urged the board to "air the dirty linen in public and rattle it." He then launched into a speech on the injustices to the working man, until quelled by Chairman Smith.

Supervisor Finley started the board firework with a demand for reinstatement of the two women and for more settled conditions in the welfare department. He had opposed previous shifts in the department, he said, for that reason.

Carolins Hold Election

RALEIGH, N. C., June 4.—(UP)—North Carolina Democrats nominate candidates for Congressional, state and county offices today.

Sen. Robert B. Reynolds was opposed for renomination by Rep. Frank Hancock, who gave up his House seat to make the campaign. Four members of the House of Representatives were opposed for renomination. The campaign was quiet and no national issues were involved as all candidates pledged loyalty to the New Deal.

The Democratic nomination in North Carolina is equivalent to election.

PLAN TOLD AS LAWYERS MEET

Providing greater convenience for Orange county residents handling estate settlements, a deputy state franchise commissioner from Los Angeles will establish an office in the courthouse soon and occupy it each Tuesday.

That plan was revealed at a dinner meeting of the Orange County Bar association in Daniger's yesterday when Clark Sellers, handwriting and identification expert, who was a prominent figure in the Hauptmann kidnapping case, was guest speaker.

Handles Income Tax
The franchise commissioner, to begin his Tuesday operations here in about a month, will handle income tax matters, particularly as they have to do with settlement of estates, according to George A. Parker, secretary of the county bar association. Appearance of the commissioner here once a week will obviate the usual necessity of going to Los Angeles to work out details in settling estates.

Sellers, in an illustrated talk, revealed the tremendous importance of handwriting identification and typewriting identification in police work. Among the slides shown were those which compared the hand-writing of Hauptmann, electrocuted for the kidnapping of the Charles A. Lindbergh baby, and others involved in the case.

Shows Will Forged
In speaking on "Typewriting Defects," Sellers showed how it was possible to detect typewritten forgeries almost as easily as handwriting forgeries.

He revealed how a typewritten will dated in 1912 was proved to be forged when it was proved through detailed investigation that the type which did the printing had not been manufactured until 1916. A. M. Drumm arranged the program, attended by approximately 30 attorneys.

CHURCH OPENS ASSEMBLY HERE

Dr. Paul W. Rood, president of the Los Angeles Bible Institute, will open the Christian Constitutional convention at the Ebell auditorium Sunday at 3 p. m. At 7:30, Dr. George Dewey Blomgren, world news correspondent, traveler and evangelist, will bring the evening message, "Voices That Still Echo."

The Christian Constitutionalists said an announcement from convention headquarters today, represent a movement that sponsors authoritative speakers on the subjects of Communism, Fascism and Nazism.

Renew Spiritual Beliefs
The purpose of the Constitutionalists is to defend the constitution and enlighten America as to conditions of labor and government in our own and other countries of the world. It is the object of the Christian Constitutionalists to re-emphasize the philosophy, faith and principles upon which this government was founded, and to reestablish within the hearts and minds of the citizens and youth of America those great spiritual beliefs and moral practices without which this government cannot survive.

The convention will continue every night from Sunday through next Friday, and is open to the public, with no admission charge. Special music will be furnished by the Goose Creek quartet, of radio fame.

Airplane Stunting To Be Featured

Airplane stunting and a parachute jump by Jerry Keeley of Long Beach will feature the program at the Eddie Martin airport tomorrow beginning about 11 a. m. and lasting throughout the afternoon, it was announced today.

The stunts, to be put on by Floyd Martin and Joe Hager and probably Sid Holland, will include loop-the-loops, barrel rolls, snap rolls, paper cutting and others in the airport's Fleet stunt ship.

At 4:30, Keeley will make his leap from the Stinson monoplane piloted by Floyd Martin.

Modern Poets

THE GRAY HOUND OF THE WORLD
The moon is down, the hunt is up, the east is turning red,
The tinkler bundles up his pack, the gypsy leaves his bed.

The wind is like the crackle of a bonfire unfurled,
The hills are ringing to the call of the gray hound of the world.

He's whining at the harbor mouth where the snowy schooners ride,
And snuffling up the rice canals where Chinese sampans glide.

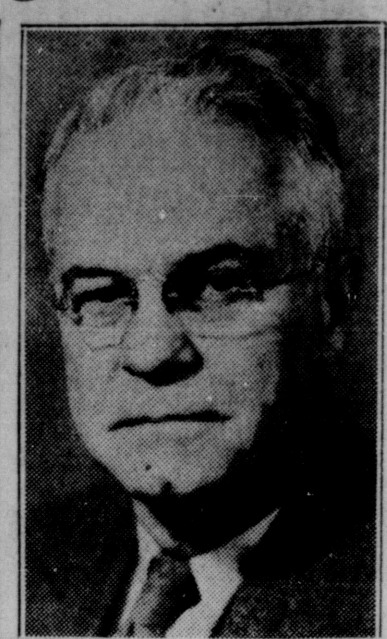

The Tartar on the lonely pass halts as his canis shys
And slavers in his wolfskin cloak when the great beast rushes by.

No man is safe with fire and book, his keys upon a ring,
A swift hound skulks through the woods and all the world is ring.

He's hunting to a highland tune upon the bagpipes skirl—
It's take to horse, and ride away with the gray hound of the world!

Among Civic Leaders Who Support Concert Series

Pictured above are four well known Santa Ana residents who were interviewed by The Register on the subject of the Orange County Concert Series. Each of the four stressed the importance of the series having the full support of the county in the drive for 1000 members, sponsors that will insure the appearance of six outstanding musical attractions during the 1938-39 season. From left to right they are: Mrs. W. S. Thompson, president of the Santa Ana Ebell club; Mayor Fred C. Rowland; the Rev. Harry E. Owings, pastor of the First Baptist church; and Ray Adkinson, superintendent of county schools.

P.-T. A. COUNCIL CHAIR TO SING

The Orange Council P.-T. A. a capella choir will present a musical memory hour program at Melrose Abbey Chapel at 3 p. m. Sunday. This organization of Mother singers is under the direction of Mabel Seeds Spizzy, music supervisor of Orange county elementary schools, and its members are drawn from districts tributary to the Orange elementary school district.

Special features of the program will be a group of soprano and baritone solos by Miss Dorothy Flintham and Donald F. Krueger, both well known soloists. Miss Flintham will be accompanied by David Craighead with Charlotte Stafford playing a violin obligato.

Rev. Hobson To Talk
The choir will sing two groups, accompanied by Craighead, organist, and Elsie Sorenson, pianist. The organ numbers by Craighead include "Prelude" (Ravanello) and "Ave Maria Stella" (Bedell).

The Rev. Arthur T. Hobson, pastor of the Orange Methodist church will deliver an address "Musical Mothers."

The Professional Hymn "Faith of Our Father" and the Recessional, "America the Beautiful" are special features by the choir. The public is invited to attend.

WEASEL IS THROWN FOR FATAL LOSS BY JAYSEE FOOTBALLERS

You'll never catch a weasel asleep . . . That's an old axiom. . . .

But a host of Santa Ana junior collegians, including half the varsity football squad was more than a match for one of the foxy little fellows yesterday afternoon.

What Makes Him Tick?
They caught him, red-handed on the Christian Science church lawn, after a wild chase all over the college campus . . . Then the weasel was turned over to Professor J. Russell Bruff of the Botany department, and it was just too bad for Mr. Weasel. He paid for his curiosity. They cut him into squares . . . and things . . . to make a study of what makes a weasel tick.

Joe Crawford spotted him first. The Dons' all-conference guard let out a whoop, and a gang of confederates joined in the chase, including Cal Calaway, Lynn Arnett, Danny Boyd and Bill Wilson.

Good "Open-fielder"
At first the weasel proved something of a match for his pursuers . . . He dodged in and out and under bushes . . . did a fancy side stepping act and all the other qualifications of a good ball-carrying back . . . The weasel, however, failed to take into consideration the astuteness of some of the Don footballers. They procured a waste-basket. The gang of would-be game hunters cornered the little animal and Joe Crawford did the rest with the waste basket and a piece of newspaper.

The weasel's hid will be stuffed by Junior college Botany students and he will be placed alongside another weasel caught earlier in the year, in the animal life collection.

Mrs. Ross E. Crane Winner of Contest

Mrs. Ross E. Crane, 1316 West Washington avenue, this afternoon received a prize of $50 for her entry in a nation-wide Royal Crown Cola contest. The contest started six weeks ago, Mrs. Crane sending in a 25-word entry every week, the prize netting her about four and a third cents per word for her efforts. Her latest entry brought the reward.

The check for $50 was presented to her by George Martinson, manager of the Nehi Bottling company here. Mrs. Crane is the wife of Ross E. Crane, assistant farm advisor of Orange county. She has had a number of verses published and has won a number of contests.

PLANS RADIO SERMON

Judge Rutherford will deliver a radio sermon on the subject "Violence," from Seattle tomorrow at 3 p. m., the broadcast coming over STATION KGER, of Long Beach (1360 kilocycles), it was announced by the Witnesses of Jehovah here today.

MEMBERS OF THE BAND ARE: Dick Freeman, Norm Touissant, and Howard Thuet, trumpets; Al Winlen, Dick Ladiges, and Gene Plumley, saxophones; Bill Tritt, bass viol; Clyde Taylor, piano; Harold Blair, drums; Lyle Anderson, vocalist; and Leslie Thuet, violin and leader.

INTERVIEWS REVEAL INTEREST IN CONCERT SERIES CAMPAIGN

Importance of the sponsorship of the Orange County Concert series was revealed in interviews of prominent Santa Ana citizens by The Register today who were asked the question: Why should the drive for 1,000 members for the series be supported?

Subjoined here are four of the answers given by Mayor Fred C. Rowland, Ray Adkinson, county superintendent of schools, Mrs. W. S. Thompson, president of Santa Ana Ebell club, and the Rev. Harry E. Owings. Other interviews soon will be gained.

Mayor Rowland: "The Orange County music lovers are very fortunate in having world renowned artists that are to be presented in the 1938-39 concert series at the low price the season membership is offered for. The same artists are being offered on the larger metropolitan courses at much higher prices for memberships. The manner in which leaders in the county have responded to the concert series promises an important and enjoyable season."

Adkinson: "The Orange county series offers to the communities of this area the enviable opportunity to unite in the support of common cultural cause."

Mrs. Thompson: "It is our duty and should be the pleasure of everyone in the community to cooperate with the fine public spirited committee of county-wide representation who are giving their time and efforts to bring to Orange County these world-renowned artists for 1938-39 concert series. We have appointed a committee in the Ebell society to cooperate with the concert committee in securing capacity membership drive."

Dr. Owings: "The Orange County Concert series will lift the cultural level of our community. Surely each one will have a share in this lift by taking a membership now."

County Loses Parley Plan

In spite of the efforts of city governments and chambers of commerce of the county to advertise Orange county at the national Shrine convention in Los Angeles, opportunity to carry out the project was lost when the board of supervisors of the county refused to advance funds for the distribution of free orange juice on Tuesday.

Following the turnout by the subscribed funds for the advertisements and secretaries of various chambers of commerce and city governments united and quickly subscribed funds for the advertising project. Yesterday it was learned that the option on 75-foot serving counter that had been reserved for the Orange county group had expired Tuesday and had been leased to another organization.

The booster club presidents and secretaries continued in their efforts and completed plans for the distribution of 6000 six ounce cups of orange juice during the Shrine convention with the hope that convention officials might make it possible for a continuation of the option on the space reserved.

Yesterday notice was sent to Howard I. Wood, secretary of the presidents and secretaries organization, that the option had been granted to another organization and the space for the Orange county plan was no longer available. Five hundred dollars had been pledged by city governments and the chambers of commerce for the project.

Shrine 'Fun Car' To Arrive Monday

"Guys, gals and gags" will bring a touch of merriment to Santa Ana when the "Fun Car" from Za Gazig Shrine Temple, Des Moines, stops in the city Monday while enroute to the national Shrine convention in Los Angeles. The car is scheduled to arrive in Santa Ana at 9 a. m. and will pay a brief visit to the sheriff's office.

The car of the Des Moines Shriners, fun-making organization of the Masonic order, will be met by a group headed by W. C. Howell of Santa Ana. Shriners and piloted by him through the city and to Los Angeles.

Led by Potentate Cliff Gardner of Des Moines, the group will arrive in a decorated car carrying in large letters the legend, "Za Gazig Temple—on to Los Angeles from Des Moines."

AMERICAN LIBERTIES
The foundations of American liberties will be discussed at the Unitarian church tomorrow under the title: "Every Man a Priest." This sermon by the minister divides in half the series of four addresses being given by lay men and women for the observance of Laymen's Sunday, Memorial Day, Father's Day and Children's Day. The regular monthly Book-review tea will be held at 3 p. m. Wednesday, with the minister reviewing Walter Lippman's "The Great Society." The public is invited to attend.

Picnic Enjoyed By Grade Pupils

EL MODENA, June 4.—The eighth grade pupils of the Roosevelt school and their teacher, D. Russell Parks, enjoyed a picnic at Newport Beach Thursday. The class is the largest class to graduate from the Roosevelt school. Exercises are set for June 9.

Those to enjoy the outing were Esther Arends, Margaret Lois Barnett, Elaine Dollard, Carmen Lopez, Doris MacKinnon, Angie Nieblan, Sibyl Perry, Loretta Sondericker, Patricia Stanley, Ruby West, William Clow, Eilsworth Lemke, Donald Miller, Takewo Murakami, Merrill Murakami, Albert Nieblan and John Prescott and the teacher, D. Russell Parks.

Missing Student Found Off Harbor

William I. Stewart, 16, of 1016 Parkridge, Glendale, reported missing to the Newport harbormaster's office yesterday afternoon, was discovered becalmed in a sail boat off the harbor early today. A fishing boat brought him to port. He was given lodging at the Newport police station for the remainder of the night.

Young Stewart was reported missing by a sergeant of the Harvard Military academy, where he is a student, a group of academy students coming to the harbor for the weekend.

Thief Escapes As Trail Is Lost

A soft-shoed thief entered the yard of the J. C. Monroe place, Route 1, Box 213-A, Anaheim, Thursday night, sheriff's officers were informed yesterday, and stole a hand-woven wool blanket valued at $5 from the Monroe car.

According to investigation of Deputy Sheriffs Bob Steinberger and Russell R. Lutes, a man's shoe tracks led to the garage of a neighbor, Mrs. C. R. Porter, but she was unable to determine whether anything was taken from her cars. From the Porter place, the officers followed the tracks to Flower and Central in Stanton, then lost them.

ORANGE COUNTY BUILDING, REMODELING NEWS

USE OF METAL LATH URGED IN OLD DWELLINGS

Each year scores of the old buildings sentimentally regarded as landmarks are destroyed by fire, and not much comment is aroused. However, the wrecking of such a building, to make space for a parking lot, or even for the erection of a modern structure, often arouses public resentment. Strangely, when the destruction is by fire the tug on the heart strings seems to be relieved almost before the embers cool.

Lacks Protection
Even the loss of historic shrines is philosophically regarded as unavoidable, since most such buildings are known to be dangerously combustible. They were erected long before serious effort was made to provide built-in fire protection, such as modern ingenuity has devised.

However, this heavy loss of irreplaceable historic buildings need not go on unchecked, for science has discovered that a high degree of protection against serious damage due to fire of internal origin can be provided at comparatively moderate cost by refinishing the walls and ceilings of an old building. Such work will help preserve the building and do much to restore its pristine charm, and need not appreciably alter its appearance.

Dangerous Tinder
The old plastering should be removed and all the combustible lath stripped from the studding and joists. This will eliminate the most dangerous tinder to be found in any building. Metal lath should be used as a base for the new plastering, which can be finished and colored so as to almost exactly simulate the plastering that was removed.

Wood studding and joints thus protected have a fire rating of well over one hour—they will successfully resist the passage of flame and heat for more than that length of time. Thus, in most instances, the fire can be kept within the room of origin until it can be subdued.

PICNIC FACILITIES
Completion of the first unit of Lake Sherwood Inn, in the Sherwood picnic park four miles south of the Hidden Valley residential section, has been announced by James R. Canterbury, developer of the property. During the past year thousands of outdoor enthusiasts visited the park.

Work Progresses Rapidly On New $22,000 Super-Market

ALLISON HONER
Developer and Builder
103 E. Third Street

The above builder's sketch of the new Super Market Spot which is rapidly nearing completion at 2201 North Main street will open about July 1. The market, one of the finest in the country will cost about $22,000 with an additional $10,000 worth of fixtures. Ed Yost is the owner of the property and Allison Honer has complete charge of the building. It will face on Main street with a frontage of 86 feet and the building itself will be 54 feet deep.

This super market will include a complete food center with meats, groceries, bakery, delicatessen, fruits and vegetables. For the convenience of the customers a large parking space is being provided adjoining the store. Labor and materials used in the undertaking are from Orange county with refrigeration equipment installed by Kohlenberger Engineering corporation of Fullerton.

On the right is Elvin Milbrat, owner and operator of the present Market Spot on Fourth street and Lacy, who will own and operate the new Super Market Spot.

Questions Before the House

By WILBUR BARR

Color Comes to The Home

There is no mystery or "Merlin Magic" in the use of color, yet it can work miracles and do seemingly impossible things when properly applied. Color can make a room seem larger or smaller, higher or lower, wider or narrower, dismal or gay. An ordinary room can be given character with color, depending upon its intelligent selection and placement. It's all in knowing how—and here's how.

Following nature's colorings is one of the simplest ways to get a pleasing color scheme. Fall gives us a perfect color scheme. The dark, brown and red earth tones suggest the floor; the dark autumn foliage gives the walnut wood tones of the furniture, the golden yellow foliage, the wall tones; the clouds, a sparkly white for the ceiling. This is a perfect color formula for an early American living room. Picture it in your mind! Hooked rugs of brown and red, walls of honey colored pine, sparkling red curtains, furniture of rich maple!

Spring foliage of green may also act as a key—no one could ask for a fresher tone. The fields of golden wheat give the colors for the rug, and the clouds again lend their bit of off-white for the ceilings.

Many Other Means

Look to winter for the modern! In this season, Nature reverses her color values and, forsaking our traditional dark floor coverings, we employ snow for the white rug, bare trees for the furniture tones, and blue sky for walls and ceiling.

There are many other ways to select your color scheme. You may have a hankering for a green room or a blue room, and a piece of chintz or a picture may be the inspiration for a successful color scheme for it. In one instance, a favorite piece of chintz set the color scheme for an entire room with its brown, blues, greens, straw and hennas. Imagine how beautifully a room could be built up with these colors—a rug of henna rust, the soft green background for the walls, upholstery in straw and henna, the henna color again in the mahogany tone of the furniture, with the accessories picking up the smart, sharp colors that become the accents of the room—blue Ming vase on the mantle, orange cigarette box on the table. And let us not forget white in just the right spots.

Color Scheme Planned

Draw up a rough floor plan of your home. See which rooms are north and south, east and west. With these facts established, you can plan a color scheme that will always be admired. With the warm soft light that streams into the south rooms, you use blue and green tones. On the north where the cold light comes in, you will need the warm colors—reds, browns and especially butter yellows.

Smart decorators today are using darker toned walls, bottle greens, cadet blues and autumn browns, with accents of white in trim, woodwork or accessories, to create the daring combinations so fitted to modern schemes.

When planning your color schemes, never select the color of your rooms from a small sample. See a generous sized piece of the contemplated color before you make your decision! For, as a rule, it will look darker and brighter in a large area than in a small piece. See all colors in the very rooms in which they are to be used, and do not be afraid to use color in large, bold areas if you use it correctly.

The color of each room should harmonize with the adjoining rooms. In practically every home, the hall color is a blending tone between rooms. The absence of strong color in the hall is, in many cases, advisable, for usually the hall color continues to the second floor and so must serve as a perfect blend for the many rooms that branch from it.

Notice Period Rooms

The color in the living room, will, of necessity, be the most important with which you are concerned. Let us say the room is on the south side of the house. What could be more charming than walls Georgian green, that soft cheerful, blue-green, the perfect accent for flesh tones, for blond or brunette, a suitable background for the visitors to the house. This color acts as a successful foil for walnut or mahogany, oriental rugs, rich tones of upholstery, the gold-sheen of damask draperies.

The dining room must be cheery in tone, more gay and vivacious, perhaps than any other room in the house, for food will taste better and digestion profit in the dining room where there are no gloomy meals.

Look toward period rooms for inspiration for your color schemes. They have brought us, through the centuries, exquisite colors which symbolize the time in which they were created. The delicate tones of blues and gold-creams symbolize the richness and sophistication of the Louis' of France. In an early American house the settings would be the opposite, for heavier tones of colors were used, such as brick red, earthy tones, mulberry, indigo blues and mustard yellows. Yes, these colors were expressive of Colonial times. Try them! The effect is amazingly beautiful.

Manufacturers today, reproduce these colors exactly in draperies, upholstery and rugs. Why not color your walls to harmonize with them? Throughout the country, people have admired the colors of Williamsburg, and museums have shown the true coloring of Colonial times.

Bedrooms call for a different type of color scheme. Soft pastel colors—soft peach, pink, blues and greens are the favorites. Smart decorators today are utilizing the wall against which the head of the bed is placed, giving it a different color from any of the other three walls in the room. This, however, requires careful consideration and planning before it is attempted.

Yes, color comes to the home—gay, fresh and brilliant—vibrant in tone. It acts as an inspiration to those who have it.

POLICY OF TITLE INSURANCE URGED BY S. A. REALTY LEADER

BY RAY GOODCELL

President of The Santa Ana Realty Board

The simple transfer of a deed from the owner of property to the purchaser is insufficient evidence of title in a majority of cases. Seldom should such a lax transaction take place; never, if one wants to be certain of unincumbered ownership.

Slipshod handling of property titles is too often the cause of unwarrantable losses. A signed deed does not necessarily transfer any value of ownership. The land may be incumbered past its worth, the bonded indebtedness may be more than it can stand, liens may appear against it, there may be a cloud on the title, taxes may be unpaid, there may be heavy assessments. All of which is reason for a thorough title search either in person, if one is capable, or by those who make a business of doing just that.

Other Unpleasant Results

There may be other unpleasant results where transfer of deed is made without title search. To illustrate, it is reported that in the early days of California, certain large areas were laid out and measured by a determined number of turns of a wagon wheel. On level ground the exact acreage might not be far off, but on rolling ground the result was not so good. Later, when these large parcels of ground were divided into smaller parcels and accurate surveys were made, there were serious discrepancies to contend with.

Twice in our own experience right in Santa Ana on Main street we have found incorrect measurements. Once there was included in a property on North Main street five feet more than the deed called for. This five feet was unwound and represented extra footage in the block unaccounted for, it having been used many years by a certain party but a neighbor had paid the taxes. The taxpayer got it but you can imagine the conflict. Again on South Main street a similar discrepancy existed and a new survey had to be made along with other adjustments.

Ownership Insured

Most states will use the old abstract, a bulky built-up book of supposedly all the transactions that have taken place on the property, an attorney generally verifying the contents as correct upon transfer. But a few years ago here in Santa Ana, we had in use the certificate of title, a document wherein the searching company certified the status of the title as reported therein. Next came the guaranteed title wherein the guarantor had some responsibility and could be held for errors, etc. The last word is the policy of title insurance now in use exclusively in Orange county. With it one is safe in practically every detail as to the fee and ownership of his property, even to forged signatures.

Companies issuing policies of title insurance are bonded with the state, a sufficient amount being held in the state treasury at all times to insure protection to those having this insurance. This protection is paid for just as you pay for any other kind of insurance at the same time the title is brought down and insures the party or parties named in the policy as long as they retain the property.

Caution Urged

When anyone invests sums as large as those usually required in the purchase of real estate, he should be over cautious to see that he is getting just what he pays for. The extra cost may seem hard to take, the seller may wish to avoid his portion of it, but after all why buy a "pig in a poke" when you can be positive that the title to the property you acquire will come to you as you have agreed to accept it. All uncertainty is eliminated if you demand a policy of title insurance.

BEE CROPS PLANTED

Sugar beet planting in Tulare county is being watched with considerable interest this year. Several thousand acres have been planted to sugar beets and a loading station is expected to be erected between Tulare and Visalia.

BUTTERFAT REVENUE

Tulare-Tipton farmers received $258,453.83 in payment for April butterfat.

Grade-Marked LUMBER

Thousands of homes valued into millions of dollars will be built in 1938 with government insured Federal Housing Administration loans; and every single one will have the protection of officially grade-marked lumber, and all other quality materials.

This is because the F. H. A., in order to protect itself when it insures a loan for twenty years, establishes minimum construction standards guaranteeing sound value. Grade-marked lumber is one of these requirements.

ARE NEWS FROM ORANGE

PLAY SERVICE FOR CHILDREN

ORANGE, June 4.—Children's day will be observed in the morning service at the Presbyterian church tomorrow, with the children's department of the church in charge. After a children's professional, under the direction of Mrs. H. F. Taylor, a pageant, "Out of the Bible," will be presented by five departments of the church school.

As they step from the pages of the big Bible on the stage the nursery department, directed by Mrs. Henry Joest, will sing "Let the Children Come Unto Me." From the beginners' department, of which Miss Elizabeth Palmer is superintendent, Donald Lord will play the part of the boy David while a narrator tells the story of this picture. Mary Lynn Walker of the primary department will enact the role of Miriam while Priscilla Goodie tells the story. Mrs. V. O. Estes is primary superintendent. The story of Joseph will be told by Margaret Ockels of the junior department, while Kenneth Morrison will take the part of Joseph, under the leadership of Mrs. C. E. Rush, junior superintendent.

Ruth will be played by William Prell of the intermediate department, with Ralph Woods as narrator. The young people's choir directed by Mrs. Winifred Sloop, will sing "In Heavenly Love Abiding" and the boys' choir will sing "God is Goodness, God is Love." The Rev. M. L. Pearson will close the service with an object sermon.

REPORT CITES WELFARE WORK

ORANGE, June 4.—A decrease in the number of transients applying for food at the Orange Community Welfare store was reported by Mrs. Clara Haines, executive secretary, at a meeting of the board yesterday, 13 men applying at the welfare office during May.

Mrs. Haines reported an increase in families arriving from other states and asking for grocery orders or other aid. She stated that five such families are being returned to their former homes by the county.

The meeting marked the final one until September. Mrs. Haines, who recently resigned as head of the welfare work, will be succeeded by Mrs. Myrtle Bay on July 15. Mrs. Bay has been working with Mrs. Haines during the past month.

During May, 184 garments were given out and 92 received, while 24 household articles were received and 40 given out from the store. Grocery orders to families were 63, an increase, which Mrs. Haines said was due to the fact that a number of men had been transferred from SRA to private employment, having been laid off for short periods.

Dinner Held By El Modena Group

EL MODENA, June 4.—Faculty members of the Roosevelt and Lincoln schools accompanied by a few guests enjoyed a dinner and theater party recently.

At the conclusion of the dinner D. Russell Parks, who has accepted a position in the Fullerton schools, was presented with a leather brief case as a farewell token.

Mrs. Marie Daugherty, Mrs. Doris Krebs, Mrs. Ruth O'Neill and Miss Henrietta Heemstra, who have resigned their positions in the El Modena school, and Mrs. Helen Scott, who has been granted a year's leave of absence, were presented dainty corsages.

The group motored to Pasadena, where they saw the play "The Star of Navarre," at the Pasadena playhouse.

Those attending included Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Hayes, Mr. and Mrs. D. Russell Parks, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Nichols, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Robbins, Mr. and Mrs. Dean Krebs, Mrs. Marie Daugherty, Mrs. Ruth O'Neill, Mrs. Helen Scott, W. R. Goodrich, Misses Henrietta Heemstra, Helen Goetsch, Mary Byrne, Isabel Durgan, Alice Raymond and Margaret Westover.

RELIGIOUS HISTORY

MAKERS

ELLEN GOULD HARMON WHITE (1827-1915)

UNDER the leadership of William Miller the Adventist movement had its inception in 1831, but the position of the church occupies in religious circles today is directly due to the work of Ellen Gould White, its acknowledged prophetess. Not only was Mrs. White a deep student of the prophecies but her marked "spiritual gifts" gave her a place among the honored religious leaders whose visions presaged a great movement.

Born in Maine in 1827, Ellen White grew to be a child with a bright vivacious temperament, fond of books and studious beyond her years, although she evidenced none of the spiritual faculties that characterized her later life. When she was nine years old an unfortunate accident occurred which altered the course of her entire life.

While playing with some schoolmates she was struck in the face by a rock. She remained unconscious during three weeks, and as a result her face was disfigured and her entire nervous system prostrated. Being deprived of the normal activities of a child's life at such an early age, the active girl could not contemplate a life of confirmed invalidism without considerable bitterness. Alternately she turned from belief to disbelief and in this frame of mind came under the influence of Miller, who was conducting a spirited revival meeting. With him as her guide Ellen accepted the Advent faith and joined him in the belief that Christ would return to earth within a short space of time. When this expectation proved baseless she was deeply disappointed, her already delicate health was affected and her faith somewhat shaken.

For two years she sought a peace which was recovered through a vision she experienced while engaged in prayer. Subsequently, she had other visions, accompanied by strange physical phenomena. According to the reports of physicians and others, her eyes remained open during these visions, she ceased to breathe and she performed miraculous feats. Strengthened by this, young as she was, and physically feeble, she displayed a zeal and an understanding of spiritual knowledge which attracted wide attention.

In 1846 she married the Rev. James White who was ordained a minister to the Advent faith. The young couple, though penniless and in poor health, threw themselves wholeheartedly into the work of the church. In 1849 they published the Advent Review and Sabbath Herald which was to become the organ of the denomination. They labored unceasingly for the union of the scattered churches, establishing the first General Conference in 1863. It was in response to a vision which came to Mrs. White while nursing her husband during a serious illness that the Western Health Reform Institute was founded in Battle Creek and the first Seventh-Day Adventist school founded in 1874. After the death of the Rev. Mr. White, his widow continued travelling, visiting churches and conducting camp meetings. She spent a number of years in Europe and Australia, returning to the United States in 1901 when she played an important part in moving the denominational headquarters to Washington, D. C. and also having a very definite part in founding the College of Medical Evangelists at Loma Linda in 1909.

Her place in the denomination was unique. She did not claim to be a leader, but simply a voice; a messenger bearing communications from God to His people. Her revelations were in the nature of instructions to disciples, aimed mostly at their spiritual life, but not forgetting to forbid the sins of custom and fashion. In response to these revelations the vegetable diet was necessary, certain requirements affecting clothing were accepted and Saturday was regarded as the Sabbath. Messages for individuals, churches, and families were imparted to her, occasionally of what would take place in the future, but more often of reproof or encouragement. Her teachings were based on the strictest doctrine of inspiration of the Scriptures and the larger portion of the believers accepted her visions without question and acted in accordance with them. She was apparently honest in her belief in these revelations which were an important factor in unifying the churches. The influence exerted through her deep personal piety and the 20 volumes written by her helped materially to build the solid structure upon which the Seventh Day Church rests.

Next Saturday: William Booth.

STARS MAKE 4 IN 9TH TO WIN: GOLFERS BEATEN

NATIONAL NIGHT BALL LEAGUE

Santa Ana	4	4	.500
Brea	4	4	.500
Orange	3	5	.375
Irvine	2	6	.250
Whittier	0	8	.000

Tuesday's Schedule

Brea at Santa Ana; Orange at Huntington Beach; Anaheim at Whittier; San Bernardino at Irvine.

For eight innings Jack Dugan, the chiropractic Orange pitcher, stood Santa Ana's Stars on their collective heads at Orange last night. He breezed into the ninth with a 3-0 lead, the Stars limited to four hits and victory right around the corner.

Then the House that Jack Built collapsed completely. The next thing Dugan knew they were taking him out of there. The score was 3-3, and the winning run was on third base. Roger Larimer came in cold, walked a man and let the next one ("Bom" Koral) ram a baseball to right that gave Santa Ana the ball game, 4-3.

Rally Comes Unexpectedly

Santa Ana's big rally came without notice. Aside from periodic wildness, Dugan had had the Stars on his hip, making 'em bite at bad balls and pop up. The fans were on their way to the exits when "Doc" Smith's Smithies came up for their last lick.

Joe Koral slashed a hit through the box and got a double out of it by fast legging. Jacobsmeier singled sharply to left. Tom Denney bounced a single to short, scoring Joe Koral. Tom Lacy blasted a line hit to left and Jacobsmeier tallied, making it 3-2. Merle Hapes popped high to Leitchfuss for the first out, and Orange breathed easier. But Bob Mott dropped a single into center field and Denney raced in with the tying run. Lacy lingered on the baselines, fearing the ball might be caught, and was thrown out. Dugan had a strike and two balls on Tommy Young when Manager "Hod" Chambers took him out, passing Young. Then "Bom" Koral sizzled a long single to right and Mott romped home.

Orange got a run in the second on Hanes's hit, Leitchfuss' walk, Salcido's single and Dugan's walk that forced in Hanes. The Cubs got two more in the fifth when Leitchfuss singled, Ted Walker tripled to deep center and Struck hit a fielder's choice to Jacobsmeier, with Walker beating the pitcher's throw to the plate.

Oilers Lose in 14th, 3-2

Hottest copy in the National league was made at Colton where San Bernardino shattered Huntington Beach's seven-game winning streak in 14 innings, 3 to 2.

The Ponies bunched hits by Weiser, Stock and Zickert to break up the game. San Bernardino made two in the third. The Oilers scored one in the fourth and tied the score in the eighth on Kelley's home run. Fire scorers followed before San Bernardino got to Venn Bots. Bots fanned 29 and Fowler 15. Conrad, Oiler infielder, was ejected from the game in the eleventh for disputing a decision at first base.

Bob Snell's homer with the bases full in the sixth tied the score at 5-5 for Brea, and the Red Lions went on from there to vanquish Whittier, 9-5. Brea made all its four last runs in the eighth after two were out on two walks, two errors and a hit by E. Bath.

Colt of Destiny Brings 'Sonny' Whitney Back to Turf

Top Flight and colt.

BY HARRY GRAYSON
(Sports Editor, NEA Service)

The most famous foal in all the history of racing will bring Cornelius Vanderbilt Whitney back to the Sport of Kings.

The colt is by May o' War, out of Top Flight.

He was born on the Whitney farm, near Lexington, Ky., on Derby Day.

Tie that one!

Is there anything to this business they call destiny?

Sonny Whitney last fall sold the 14 horses he had in training. They brought $100,000. The best of the lot were Dauber, The Chief, and Cravat.

Willie du Pont purchased Dauber. That blunderer and stretch runner finished second to Stagehand in the $50,000 Santa Anita Derby, second to Lawrin in the Kentucky Derby, and did not come into his own until he laughed at the field in the mud of The Preakness.

The latter effort alone was worth $70,000, and Dauber will have to break a leg to miss carrying the mile-and-a-half Belmont Stakes.

"Sonny" Whitney suddenly contracted a terrific yen for polo. It got so bad that he telephoned New York sports writers for telling, and honestly, how well he played the game.

BEST OF LOT, BUT NO DERBY WINNER

"Sonny" Whitney inherited little of Harry Payne Whitney's love for thoroughbreds.

He sought a different thrill. But he had that farm, and continued to breed horses.

And now we have a son of Man o' War, out of Top Flight.

Top Flight won more money than any other member of her sex. But she got back to her 2-year-old year when she ran her first race, bowlegged to grab $200,000.

Top Flight was an overwhelming winter book favorite to cop the Kentucky Derby, but never got there. Fillies don't go so well in the spring.

You know all about Man o' War. Big Red was beaten only once, when he shouldn't have been beaten. He got $249,000 when purses were what would be considered peanuts today, and was retired after he ran Sir Barton into the ground in a match race that ended his 3-year-old year.

Man o' War was and is—the greatest running horse of all time. But he got back to her 2-year-old year when she ran her first race, bowlegged to grab $200,000.

Vines Admits Budge Holds Pro Court Key

BY JACK GUENTHER
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

PASADENA (UP)—Lanky Ells—This largely was due to unprecipitated welcome we received in California and Florida, sections we merely touched in 1937. The total was $5000 more than we expected, and next year it should be better.

The reason for the expected crop of dollars in 1938 is simply Budge, present amateur titleholder.

"Budge and I have reached what might be called an agreement," Vines disclosed. "He has promised a definite answer right after the American Nationals. Of course, much of our success depends on what he does at Wimbledon and Forest Hills this summer. But I won't broach the subject again until he is ready with his answer."

Budge's acceptance is considered a foregone conclusion. All details have been worked out, even the money and playing procedure. The Oakland youth will have his choice of a guarantee or a percentage.

Vines and Perry will alternate matches with the Oakland youth on a semi-round robin schedule.

"Well, despite the recession, the 1938 proceeds add up to $175,000."

At THE TRACKS

Lawrin Arrives at Inglewood for $50,000 Race

HOLLYWOOD PARK—Lawrin, Herbert M. Woolf's 1938 Kentucky Derby winner, arrived at Hollywood park yesterday safe and sound. He is here to fulfill his engagement in the $50,000 added invitational American 3-year-old championship, which will be held June 29 at the new Inglewood track.

The strapping brown son of Inso, in charge of trainer Ben Jones, shipped perfectly from Louisville scene of his great triumph.

Accompanying Lawrin were nine stablemates—Unerring, Annoyed, Dokas, Robert L., Belle Shammyer, Top Billing, White Ginger, St. Moritz and Vicuna.

Escohigh, a 4-year-old filly, came down with car sickness and was taken off the special at Albuquerque.

Clayton Perkins, contract rider for the Woolford Farms, came along with the shipment. The young Nebraska born pilot was leading rider at the recent Churchill Downs meeting.

Nominations close today for the $2500 added Hollywood Premiere Handicap—six furlong opening day feature—and the $5000 added Inglewood Mile, scheduled as the headliner for next Saturday. Weights will be announced Wednesday by M. H. Morrison, racing secretary.

A few candidates for the Hollywood Premiere almost sure to be named are Woodberry, Brown Jade, Alviso, Boss Martin, Indiantown, Faithful Maud, Specifi, Bill Farnsworth, Gleeman and San Luis Rey.

E. E. Fogelson's Gray Jack, rested up for a spell after running second to Seabiscuit in the Agua Caliente Handicap, will be sent in the Inglewood Mile.

Gentlemen of the press will be guests at a dinner given in their honor by the Hollywood Turf club next Wednesday night, in the clubhouse at the track. J. L. Warner, chairman of the board of directors, will officiate as toastmaster. The other board members and General Manager Jack Mackenzie will break bread with the scribes.

U. S. GOLFERS DEFEATED IN SERIES, 7 TO 4

ST. ANDREWS, Scotland (UP)—Great Britain's amateur golfers today won the Walker Cup for the first time in history, defeating the United States team seven matches to four with one even.

Since the series started in 1922, the British had lost nine times. But today the Britons played brilliant golf to score their decisive victory.

The clinching victory was scored by Alex Kyle, Scottish weaver and designer of cloth patterns. With his team needing victory in one of two incomplete singles, he defeated Freddie Haas of New Orleans, 5 and 4.

That put Great Britain out in front, six matches to four with one halved.

Then Cecil Ewing of Ireland, who earned a place on the team by going to the finals of the British Amateur championship last week where he was defeated by Charley Yates of Atlanta, round out the triumph with a one-up victory over Ray Billows of Poughkeepsie.

Results of today's 36-hole singles matches:

Charley Yates, Atlanta, defeated James Bruen Jr., Ireland, 2 and 1. Hector Thomson, Scotland, defeated Johnny Goodman, Omaha, 5 and 4.

Johnny Fischer, Cincinnati, defeated Leonard Crawley, England, 3 and 2.

Charles Towse, England, defeated Chuck Wocess, Detroit, 3 and 1. Marvin Ward, Olympia, Wash., defeated Frank Pennink, England, 12 and 11.

Cecil Ewing, Ireland, defeated Ray Billows, Poughkeepsie, 1 up. Gordon Peters, Scotland, defeated Reynolds Smith, Dallas, 3 and 5.

Alex Kyle, Scotland, defeated Freddie Haas, New Orleans, 5 and 4.

MAKING A SCIENCE OF PUTTING

"Once determined, the line would be 'marked.' By this I mean that anywhere from 6 to 10 inches ahead of the ball, the most conspicuous blade of grass or grain of sand—directly on the chosen line—would be selected as a marker to sight on. The ball must cross this guide spot.

"My father then would place his putter in front of the ball and concentrate on squaring the face at right angles to the sight. Then he would withdraw the club and let the blade rest lightly on the turf close behind the ball, being careful to retain the correct angle, square along the line.

"Finally, banishing the line from ing—only an arrow lettered "This way to the hammer throw."

I later talked to a fellow who had tried to make the trip to the land of the hammer hermits. This fellow said he had given up when, after a third change of railroads, the conductor had told him he would be obliged to engage an Indian guide and a canoe for the final stages of the journey.

The more I thought about the hammer throwers going through their performance miles from the championships proper, and without benefit of audience, the more I wondered why college boys ever take up the sport. The average athlete likes the roar of the crowd and the roar of the presses that print his name on the sports pages. Too, from the descriptions I have heard of the sport, it doesn't sound like the most fascinating or thrilling business in the world. In fact, it sounds almost as dull as putting the short, and I have always rated putting the shot as an event with a fascination quota of nothing flat minus three and a half.

But it seems my rating of both sports is wrong. Wrong in the estimation of Brutus Hamilton, anyway, and Brutus, being track coach at the University of California, should know. Brutus could watch a shot putter put for hours. Says he gets a tremendous bang out of the grace, co-ordination and timing that is necessary to make the cannonball soar through the air. I sat with him a while yesterday while the big fellows were putting and such expressions as "beautiful" and "superb" and "splendid" escaped his lips. He did admit, however, that shot putting is an acquired taste.

Well, before I try to acquire it I am going to first try something easy. Like, say, eating ground glass.

It was not until yesterday, when I paid a visit to the collegiate A. A. A. track meet at Randall's Island, that I fully realized the absolute obscurity of the hammer throwers. I went to Randall's Island to fill a gap in my sports education. I had never seen a hammer thrower throw a hammer.

I still haven't.

They were not to be found anywhere in the stadium. All the other athletes were there—the runners and the jumpers and the hurdlers and the vaulters—but not the hammer boys. I had just about abandoned my search for them when I chanced to see this little notice on page 22 of the official program:

"Turn to page 12 to learn the location of the hammer throw, which takes place outside the stadium to the south. Spectators wishing to witness this competition should leave stadium by gate in rear of section 1."

One glance at page 12 convinced me that there was no use looking for the hammer throwers. Because page 12 was a map of what appeared to be the United States east of the Mississippi river, and way down in one corner was—no, not an X marking the spot where the hammer throwers were performing.

W. R. (Stormy) Gordon's Automotive league fence-busters defeated L. D. Coffing's nine, 10-5, last night after 10 innings at Santiago park. The Gordons chased five runs across the plate in the overtime frame. The score was 5-5 at the end of the regulation nine innings. The score:

Sheppard To Be Honored At Fete

Sixteen Orange county Democratic delegates met with more than 100 committeemen from Orange, San Bernardino, and Riverside counties at La Posada hotel at Redlands last night and completed plans for a reception and ball tentatively set for June 30 at the Civic Auditorium at Riverside, in honor of Representative Harry Sheppard.

A complete program was outlined by Marcus Meairs, of Riverside, as the "home-coming" event, including an address by Sheppard.

Orange county representatives at the meeting included Horace C. Head, H. F. Kenny, and Postmaster Frank Harwood, Santa Ana; Joe Peterson and Orlan Sisson, Orange; Postmaster L. H. Hoskins, Harold Welsh, Joe Shay, Timothy Shay, and B. J. Henry, Anaheim; Postmaster R. S. Gregory, Lloyd Verry, and C. R. Allen, Fullerton; Postmaster L. A. Hogue, Brea; and Walter Henning and Henry Hall, Laguna Beach.

Hope Fades For Kidnaped Boy

PRINCETON, Fla., June 4.—(UP)—James B. Cash sr., said today he has abandoned hope that his kidnaped son Jimmy still is alive. He said he feared Jimmy might take a week or 10 days to find the body in the tangled Everglades of Southern Florida.

Hollow-eyed and weary, after a week spent in frantic effort to locate the blue-eyed 5-year-old boy, Cash said he has resigned himself to the conviction that his son is dead. During the hectic days since the boy was kidnaped and the $10,000 ransom was paid, the father had clung to the fading hope that he would see his son alive once more.

"I have now given up all hope of finding my son alive," he said this morning.

Wife Killer Faces Murder Charge

FLAGSTAFF, Ariz., June 4.—(UP)—A second-degree murder charge was lodged here today against Jeff Wilson Ferris, former Inglewood, Calif., man, in connection with the death of his 50-year-old wife, Mrs. Louise Murray Ferris, last Wednesday.

Investigators, who found Mrs. Ferris nude and beaten body in her apartment, said throat and head injuries caused her death. The husband was jailed in lieu of $2500 bond and his hearing was set for June 21.

Noted Sportsman Dies In Crash

RED BANK, N. J., June 4.—(UP)—Maximilian Baron Von Romberg, 27, Santa Barbara, Calif., was killed today when an airplane he was piloting fell into the North Shrewsbury river off Lewis Point, Fair Haven, N. J.

The two place cabin plane apparently exploded before it plunged into the river. Von Romberg's body, tangled in the lines of a parachute, was taken from the river and brought to a local mortuary.

FIRE EXTINGUISHED

Fire which was started from unknown cause at 8:35 p. m. yesterday did little damage to loose hay, pile near Delhi road and Maple avenue, according to firemen who responded to an alarm and extinguished the blaze.

DIVORCES GRANTED

Two decrees of divorce were granted in superior court late yesterday, as follows: Elsie G. Blake from George F. Blake; Joan Mang from Elmer Mang.

2 Men Mistake Temple for Hotel

Two San Diego men wanted to get "bedded down" at Santa Ana Masonic temple "hotel" last night. They failed to find accommodations.

At 10:10 p. m., Paul Bravayak, 552 Fifth avenue, San Diego, and Billy Muirhead, 3503 Forty-Seventh street, San Diego, appeared at the temple to get a room for the night.

When Officers L. C. Rogers and Richard M. Bradley appeared on the scene, the men said, "We thought the place was the best hotel in town." Told what the building was, the pair left for parts unknown.

MANY PLEAS HEARD IN COUNTY COURT

Clyde Cochran, found guilty of burglary of the Lullita Stucker home at Buena Park May 16, yesterday was granted probation for three years by Superior Judge James L. Allen, who made Otto Puckert, of Orange, sponsor of the defendant.

John Southerland and Henry Hagland, convicted of burglary of a boat at Newport Beach, were placed on probation for four years. Southerland was released to sponsorship of F. L. Sims, but Hagland must serve six months in jail as a condition of his probation.

J. J. Belarde, charged with non-support, was granted one year's probation on condition that he pay $10 per month to his family.

Asks Probation

Frank Wilson, Orange, and Chauncey Crist, Garden Grove, facing charges of contributing to the delinquency of two 15-year-old Anaheim girls, will receive a probation hearing June 10.

Delbert Puget pleaded guilty to burglary of the Red Hill service station at Tustin May 27, and applied for probation, hearing being set for June 10.

Manuel Murrillo pleaded guilty to driving an automobile without the owner's consent. Hearing of his plea for probation is set for June 10.

Pleading guilty to possession of firearms by an alien, Lorenzo Vasquez was ineligible to apply for probation. He will be sentenced June 7.

Railroad Men Plan Last Ride

SAN FRANCISCO, June 4.—(UP)—Two hundred railroad historians will leave San Francisco tonight to make a "farewell excursion" on the Virginia and Truckee railroad's historic Comstock Express, crack passenger flier in the Bonanza days of Virginia City, Nev.

The "Railfans"—members of the California-Nevada Railroad Historical Society—will board the historic train at Reno tomorrow morning, pass through the Washoe Valley and its stationless stations and ghost towns, and up to Virginia City.

Impending abandonment of the line prompted the excursion.

Young Man Held As Army Deserter

Accused of deserting the United States Army at Fort Rosecrans, San Diego, Thursday, Jay Rogers, 19, was arrested yesterday by Officers Harry Pink and Charles Wolford at the home of his sister, 1851-2 Spurgeon, and booked at county jail. Rogers told the officers he didn't like the work at the Army post so decided to come home.

The arrest was made upon order of Army officials at Fort Rosecrans. At request of the same Army officials, Provost Sergeant John cost of March field, Riverside, came here at 8:45 p. m. yesterday and took Rogers to the field.

Pilot's Widow Awarded $5150

LOS ANGELES, June 4.—(UP)—The state industrial accident commission today ordered payment of $5150 compensation to the widow and daughter of Pilot Sidney L. Willey, killed when an airplane crashed in Mint Canyon a few weeks ago.

Commissioner Charles A. Son ordered the California casualty indemnity exchange to pay the award at the rate of $25 a month to Mrs. Ruth M. Willey and her eight-year-old daughter, Ruth, after he held a public hearing on the claims of the mother and child.

Willey was one of nine persons killed May 16 when a Lockheed Airliner crashed while being ferried to Las Vegas, Nev., for transfer to Northwest Airlines.

HITS PARKED CAR

A car driven by Raymond Harrison, Route 4, Santa Ana, collided with a parked car registered to Sid Kimball, 921 West Fifth, at Fifth and Olive last night. Officers William Nielsen and W. H. Heard were informed. Harrison, the officers reported, agreed to see Mrs. Kimball soon about having the Kimball car repaired. He said a third car which was passing him at the time, crowded him into the Kimball car.

ASKS $864 JUDGMENT

Association Collectors Corporation today filed suit in superior court on behalf of the Santa Fe Pipe and Supply company, asking judgment of $864.40 against the San Juan Water company, for installing pipe at Dohney Park.

ADMIT WOMEN FREE AT MONDAY BOXING

Another "Ladies' Night" at the Orange County Athletic club has been announced for the weekly boxing matches Monday night.

All women, if accompanied by one paid admission, will be admitted free, upon payment of a few cents covering state and federal taxes.

In the principal bout of a double main event Fernie Baca, who has fought three sensational fights here, meets Monroe Perkins of the Ebony club. Badge Diaz, 127-pounder, meets Sammy Walker, also of the Ebony club, in the second half of the double.

Matchmaker Frankie Lockhart has signed the following supporting matches: Joe Gomez vs. Jimmy Merced; B. Jimenez vs. Walter Howell; Felix Gomez vs. Wally Bailey; Cecil Payne vs. Fred Cerda; Cecil Payne vs. Fred cia; Bert Duran vs. Joe Palacio.

LEE PITCHES THIRD SHUTOUT FOR CUBS

NEW YORK (UP)—The transformation of big Bill Lee of the Chicago Cubs from one of those "hold your breath" hurriers into baseball's foremost pitcher as of today forms the background for the most intriguing study in psychology to be found on the sports pages.

For his last 46 innings he has allowed only one run. He pitched his third straight shutout yesterday to beat the Boston Bees, 4-0, and the Cubs moved within a game-and-a-half of the National league lead.

The Giants lost their fourth straight, bowing to Pittsburgh, 6-5. The Pirates made all six runs in the second to drive Harry Gumbert off the mound.

Oil Worker Dies Of Heart Attack

Fred Lee, 49, of 1332 Custer street, Santa Ana, died yesterday at Orange county hospital of a heart attack.

An oil worker, Mr. Lee had been a resident of Santa Ana for the past three years. He was born in Iron county, Missouri.

He is survived by the widow, Ruth Lee; five daughters, Miss May Lee, Taft, Calif., Mrs. Marie Jones, Newport Beach; Mrs. Grace Maschado, San Pedro, and Misses Joyce and La Verne Lee of Santa Ana; and two sons, Eugene and Herbert Lee of Santa Ana.

Funeral services will be announced later by Brown & Wagner funeral directors.

Jewish Order Set For Monday Fete

Initiation of 40 members in the re-institution of B'nai B'rith, fraternal Jewish order, in Santa Ana, will be held at 6:30 p. m. Monday at a dinner affair at the American Legion hall, with the Hollywood drill team officiating.

This was the announcement today made by A. Turk and A. Bralsen, who are in charge of general arrangements. The order that had functioned in Santa Ana some years ago discontinued for several years.

LAGUNA BEACH STREET PAVING WORK SLATED TO START SOON

LAGUNA BEACH, June 4.—With over $10,000 on hand in the form of voluntary subscriptions, actual work on paving of streets in the district bounded by Temple Hills drive, Coast boulevard and Thalia and Calliope streets is expected to be under way soon. Following a series of meetings action was taken in the form of individual assessment, rather than the bond issue plan, was agreed upon.

Rock and asphalt paving, similar to that used upon the shoulders of state highways, with minimum thickness of one and one-fourth inches, was considered adequate for some years to come. Costs have been guaranteed not to exceed 60 cents per front foot of property owned, or an average of $30 per 50-foot lot.

Some 650 property owners are embraced in the territory covered. All moneys received are being placed in escrow with the city treasurer, pending collection of a majority of the pledges; streets and blocks 100 per cent paid up will be given immediate attention. Active workers on the large committee whose efforts are about to see fruition include Mrs. Alice Padgett, chairman; Mrs. Miriam Hedges, secretary; Harry Harper and Dr. Harvey Thornburg, counselors.

MRS. A. J. PALMER CALLED BY DEATH

Mrs. Adaline Jeanette Palmer, 89, who had been a resident of Santa Ana for the past 29 years, died at her home at 412 East Sixth street, yesterday after an illness lasting several months.

Born Adaline Jeanette Sherman, her birthplace was Waupun, Wisconsin. Her girlhood was spent in Evanston, Ill., before her marriage to Ruben Palmer in 1868. The Palmers first lived in Santa Ana, later settling on a homestead in Brookings county, Dakota territory. The first summer of the residence in the Dakota territory was spent in a covered wagon. Mrs. Palmer was the last of her generation in both her own and her husband's families. Mr. Palmer died in 1929.

Active in Church

She is survived by two sons, Milton S. Palmer, of Santa Ana; and the Rev. Edwin A. Palmer, Methodist minister of Pasadena; two grandchildren and three great grandchildren.

She had been a member of the First Methodist church, the Women's Christian Temperance Union, and the Shiloh Circle of the auxiliary of the Grand Army of the Republic.

Funeral services will be held at Winbigler Memorial chapel at 2 p. m. Monday with the Rev. George A. Warner, pastor of the First Methodist church of Riverside and the Rev. Calvin E. Holman, pastor of the First Methodist church of Santa Ana, in charge of services. Members of Shiloh Circle will assist in the services. Burial will be made at Fairhaven cemetery.

Valentino Again Proves Popular

HOLLYWOOD, June 4.—(UP)—The Rudolph Valentino revival gained such an impetus today that Paramount studio decided to add a musical score synchronization to "The Sheik" and release the picture to theaters throughout the nation.

The decision was prompted by a $10,000 gross in a week's showing of "The Sheik" at the Gaiety Theater in New York City. Attendance was predominantly feminine.

Numerous Valentino fan clubs still survive throughout the country. These clubs have showered the studio with requests for both private and public showings of "The Sheik."

DRIVER IS ACCUSED

Upon report of a local citizen who failed to give a name, that a drunk driver was traveling south on Rose street from 19th, yesterday, Officers Charles Neer, Chet Gross, Burdette Lane and Francis Norton investigated and stopped Joe Miller, 42, San Diego gardener, and had him examined by a local doctor. The doctor pronounced Miller "slightly intoxicated and unfit to operate a motor vehicle." Miller was released later after being ticketed on charges of operating a car while it was in an unsafe condition and for driving without operator's license.

CITY'S CHRISTMAS SPIRIT IS PRAISED

Indication that the Christmas tree street decorations during the last holiday season in downtown Santa Ana were outstanding in Southern California was made today in a letter from the San Diego Chamber of Commerce to the local booster club.

According to Howard I. Wood, secretary of the local chamber of commerce, a request from the San Diego organization was received paying compliment to the decorations and asking full details for duplication of the decoration scheme.

"Your street decorations during the last holiday season have attracted wide-spread attention and we would appreciate full details concerning the type, cost, maintenance, and method of financing the decorations," the letter stated.

The holiday trim last year was set up under the direction of Phil M. Brown, secretary of the Business Men's Association and the Retail Division of the Chamber of Commerce.

Quiz Suspect In Warren Murder

MODESTO, Cal., June 4.—(UP)—At the request of Bakersfield police, Modesto authorities today were holding a 52-year-old New York man as a suspect in the slaying of Mathias H. Warren in Bakersfield on May 14.

Police Chief Elmer E. Arlington said the man was arrested here on an intoxication charge, and asserted told fellow prisoners in the Stanislaus county jail, "that Warren had gotten what he deserved."

Bakersfield authorities asked that he be held until a comparison of his fingerprints could be made with those found about the Warren home.

Ancient Horse Sold To State

SACRAMENTO, Cal., June 4.—(UP)—A cavalry horse used in Indian warfare back in 1857 today was the property of the state of California (at a total cost of $29 if anybody wants to know).

The state got the horse by redeeming a $200 bond found in old papers of an estate by a Los Angeles attorney and originally given to John T. Terry, original owner of the horse. The federal government agreed in 1862 to redeem the war bonds and California set up a fund to retire the bonds pending reimbursement from the federal treasury.

The federal appraisement of the horse was only $29 so that's all the bond was redeemed for. Without actually saying so, state officials presumed they had bought a dead horse.

THREE MORE NABBED IN HUGE SPY PLOT

NEW YORK, June 4.—(UP)—The arrest of two German ship captains and a designer of the navy's newest destroyers indicated further ramifications in the investigation of an espionage plot today.

The captains, Franz Friske of the Hamburg American line freighter Hindenberg, and Heinrich Lorenz of the North German Lloyd freighter Chemnitz, were arraigned in federal court last night as material witnesses in the plot that in two months has involved more than 30 persons. They were released on $2500 bonds each and immediately boarded the North German Lloyd liner Europa, apparently with the federal men's knowledge. The Europa sailed early today for Europe.

Draftsman Jailed

The other prisoner taken last night, Christian Danielson, a draftsman for the Bath, Me., was building new ships for the navy, was held in jail under $10,000 bond.

It was reported that some of the plans for the new destroyers had been stolen. Danielson's importance as a witness was attested by the fact that his bond was set four times larger than that of most material witnesses in the case.

Pair Testify

The two captains had been detained to testify before a federal grand jury that has been investigating the case a month, and their ships had sailed without them several weeks ago.

Their sailing today, while under bond, was an unexplained development. In arraigning them, Leon G. Tarron, a federal agent, and Lester C. Dunigan of the U. S. attorney's office, told Judge John W. Cliney that they had information that the captains intended to sail on the Europa and for that reason they requested the bond be set. They told the court that once the men got to Germany, where two other material witnesses have taken up residence, while under subpoena, there would be no way for forcing them to return.

WOMAN IS WARNED

On condition she behave and refrain from using profanity in front of children, a 30-day county jail term ordered for Mrs. Margaret Cruz, 38, 1048 Lincoln, today by City Judge J. G. Mitchell, was suspended.

Mrs. Cruz, who pleaded guilty, was arrested by Detective Lieutenant Charles Wolford and Police Matron Dorothy Russick after Mrs. Maria Nunez, 1026 East Washington, her neighbor, signed a disturbance of the peace complaint. Mrs. Nunez said Mrs. Cruz used profanity before the Nunez children and called her and her family "bad names."

Big Crowd Enjoys School Picnic

One hundred and 65 teachers, children and parents spent an enjoyable afternoon and evening at Santiago park yesterday, celebrating the Herbert Hoover school picnic.

Games, pony rides and other entertainment by the school harmonica band featured the program. Committee heads and assistants in charge of the picnic program were: E. D. Froeschle, game supervisor; Mrs. E. D. Froeschle and Mrs. Robert Horn, assistants; Theron Willis, supervisor of pony riding; Mrs. R. D. Smiley, supervision of dinner; Mrs. H. G. Huffman, Mrs. R. W. Haysel, Mrs. Norman Heffner and Mrs. J. A. Randall, assistants.

The table committee was composed of Mrs. John Kinyon, Mrs. H. G. Huffman and Mrs. Theron Willis; Mrs. Roy Beall, coffee committee; Mrs. J. J. Vernon, hospitality; and S. J. Mustol and Mrs. Alice McVey, entertainment.

The blessing was said by Esabel Lindsay and Mrs. A. E. Honer, P-T-A. president, presided at the dinner.

FEATURED SCREEN ATTRACTIONS AT SANTA ANA THEATERS

SPIRIT OF SOUTH AND HAWAII ARE SEEN AT STATE MID-WEEK

The whole spirit of the southland is evoked in the inspiring "My Old Kentucky Home," screening at the State theater Wednesday and Thursday. The rough-mantle Hawaii for rousing outdoor adventure in "Hawaiian Buckaroo," starring Smith Ballou, singing cowboy of the screen, offered as second feature.

"My Old Kentucky Home" concerns two representatives of a wealthy, tradition-bound Kentucky clan whose romance goes smash when a night club singer poisons herself and ex-sweetheart on his sweet heart is announced.

It is the story of his gradual recovery, the return of a chance at romance with the engaged pair. An exciting climax ensues as problems come to a head and the brother of the night club singer interferes but fails. Evelyn Venables, Grant Richards and J. Farrell MacDonald head the cast.

"Hawaiian Buckaroo" brings virile drama, action-filled pace, of the great Southwest to the paradise isle of the Pacific for the first time. An Arizona trouble-buster scraps and sings his way to Hawaii in a man-hunt for a gang of rustlers and wins. Evelyn Knapp and Harry Woods are among the top-notchers in the cast. March of Time and a Pete Smith oddity also screen.

Claude Rains, Olivia de Havilland and George Brent, above, appear beginning tomorrow at Walker's in "Gold Is Where You Find It," story of the terrific fight of California ranchers against the soil-destroying, gold-hunting hydraulic engineers in 1870. Second film feature brings Tarkington's immortal Penrod in "Penrod and His Twin Brother."

Jimmie Fidler In Hollywood

HOLLYWOOD, June 4.—Driving along Hollywood Boulevard this morning, I passed Ruby Keeler. Dressed in a frock a high-school kid might wear, with her hair blowing every which way around her face, she looked about sixteen—and I couldn't help burning a bit when I thought that Hollywood was about to judge her passe and shuffle her into the discard.

About five years ago, she was packing fans into the theaters by the million. She is just as beautiful now as she was then; she sings as well and acts as well. But, thanks to a few unprofitable pictures, she was off the screen for two years. It wasn't fair to Ruby and it wasn't fair to the millions who love her. She was paying the penalty for the mistakes of a studio which needed an alibi account for the red ink on the ledger.

She was the first film musical star and her studio was so anxious to cash in on her popularity that it rushed her pell-mell into one makeshift production after another. Lavish sets and Ruby Keeler—that was the formula. Not one of her pictures after her first smash hit, "Forty-Second Street," had an adequate plot; not one had originality. It was inevitable that the public should tire of seeing her in one carbon copy after another—and inevitable that Hollywood would make her take the rap. Mark her down as a near sacrifice to the folly of a producer.

A letter in this morning's mail from a designer of men's clothes who requests me to "write something" about Hollywood's new status as the world's style capital for male fashions. He asserts at Bond Street and Piccadilly and claims that every manufacturer is now following the cut of the togs worn on the screen by the Messers. Taylor, Gable, Powell et al. Not being personally up on such matters, I'm in no position to argue. But I am in a position to laugh, for every day I see those best-dressed stars meandering about on the boulevard. Not one of them wears the sort of duds with which his frame is garnished for the camera. And I would be willing to give two-to-one odds that seen on the street of any other big city, they would immediately be judged the worst-dressed men on earth.

Ginger Rogers not only dislikes and fears airplanes, but makes no secret of her phobia. The other night, at a party, the host announced that he had just bought a new cabin plane and insisted that everyone should go with him to the airport and take a ride. Ginger said she would not ride, but agreed to go along and watch. At the field, the host finally persuaded her to step inside the ship and look at its fittings. The ship took off. Ginger sat quietly, looked out of the window, and seemed to pay little attention to the gibes of the

Rudy Vallee Will Star In Picture

With Rudy Vallee heading the cast, "Gold Diggers of Paris," new-cast of the Warner Brothers famous Gold Digger musical comedies, will open at the West Coast theater in the near future.

In addition to Vallee, the cast includes Rosemary Lane, Gloria Dickson, Hugh Herbert, Allen Jenkins, Melville Cooper, Mabel Todd, Fritz Feld and a host of others, and features Freddie Fisher's Schnickelfritz band, as well as the Gold Digger chorus girls.

All-Comedy Program Is Scheduled

With a sparkling cast headed by Irene Dunne and Douglas Fairbanks Jr., "Joy of Living" presents a brand new theme for a comedy with music. The film opens a four-day run at Walker's Wednesday along with another top-flight picture, "Battle of Broadway," merry, mad story of American Legionnaires on a convention "bust" in New York, starring Victor McLaglen, Brian Donlevy and Louise Hovick (Gypsy Rose Lee).

"Joy of Living" deals with the pursuit of happiness, a plan for which is presented in a light-hearted treatment. Two contrasting characters, a popular musical comedy star who is always in debt, thanks to her selfish family, and a forthright playboy, are principals of the picture, which deals with their quarrels and loves in a charmingly gay manner.

In the capable hands of Vic McLaglen and Brian Donlevy, both honest-to-gosh war vets, "Battle of Broadway" is the story of their efforts to rescue a brother veteran's son from the wiles of a showgirl charmer. It is full of love interest, and heaps of gusto for the "Class of 1917-18." "Minnet to the Big Apple" musical novelty, and world news also are offered.

DELINQUENCY DRAMATIZED

Humphrey Bogart and Gale Page are starred with the brilliant young scheduled to open at the West Coast theater next Thursday with actors who became famous in "Dead End," in a gripping new drama, "Crime School," which is an outdoor action picture, "Under Western Stars."

"Crime School" frankly aligns itself on the side of modern methods of deal with juvenile delinquency. The picture gives a thorough expose of the evils of the old reformatory system, still in vogue in some unprogressive communities.

It follows the fate of the six "Dead End" boys, all typical prod-

LORETTA YOUNG TO HEAD FINE BILLING

One of the most startling stories ever printed in a national magazine becomes an amazing screen adventure in "Four Men and a Prayer," which will open at the Broadway theater next Thursday with a cast headed by Loretta Young and Richard Greene, Manager George King announced today.

Beautiful and gay Loretta Young has practically the only feminine role in the "Four Men and a Prayer" as the girl whose love for a man shines through clouds of intrigue and distrust. Her romantic interest is for Richard Greene, sensational British star discovery. The four men forsake everything in their careers to track down around the world, the menace which cashed their beloved father, C. Aubrey Smith, out of the army in disgrace.

On the same program will be "Rascals," starring America's number one mischief maker, Jane Withers, as a young gypsy princess. Aided by Borrah Minevitch and his refugees from a musical madhouse, the harmonica gang, Jane cavorts through the picture and leaves her movie fans hysterical with mirth while Robert Wilcox and Rochelle Hudson untangle the skeins of love that is hampered by a jealous tzigane and a title-seeking mother.

Margaret Sullivan, Robert Taylor, Franchot Tone and Robert Young are shown above in a scene from the thrilling romantic drama of post-war days, "Three Comrades," which is now showing at the West Coast theater along with "Crime Takes a Holiday," starring Jack Holt. Holt has a strong part as the district attorney who successfully battles a racketeer gang.

Walker Has Adventures Bill Sunday

"Shall California belong to the wheat-growers who bring food-crops from the soil each year, or to the hydraulic miners whose terrific streams of water tear away the hillsides and ruin the adjacent farming lands?"

In the 1870's that was the burning question of the day. Men fought about it. Many were killed. Bitter hatreds were engendered. The peace of the whole Golden State was disturbed.

That situation forms the basis of "Gold Is Where You Find It," starring George Brent, Olivia de Havilland, Claude Rains, Margaret Lindsay and featuring many other top-row players. The program opens tomorrow at Walker's with Tarkington's immortal "Penrod" comes as second attraction in "Penrod and His Twin Brother."

In "Gold Is Where You Find It," there are plots, counter-plots, battles, floods, dynamitings and constant turmoil until an ultimate happiness is reached. Among the sterling cast are also John Lister, Barton MacLane, Marcia Ralston, Tim Holt, Sidney Toler, Henry O'Neill and the late Robert Wade.

The comedy-drama, "Penrod and His Twin Brother," includes in its cast, the brilliant 13-year-old twins, Billy and Bobby Mauch; also Spring Byington, Frank Craven and Jackie Morrow are prominently cast. "Cleaning House" cartoon in sepiia platinum, based on the "Captain and the Kids" comic strip, and world news also are offered.

Penny Debt Paid, Interest, Too VAN WERT, O.—(UP)—A 40-year-old debt of 1 cent—plus 11 cents interest—has been paid to Holly Hoaglin, Cavett, O. Hoaglin who would not reveal the donor, said the debt was contracted 40 years ago when his father lent a penny for postage.

You May See It Today At—

WEST COAST—"Three Comrades," co-starring Robert Taylor, Franchot Tone, Robert Young, Margaret Sullivan, with Guy Kibbee, and "Crime Takes a Holiday," starring Jack Holt; also latest Mickey Mouse cartoon and world news are offered.

THE BROADWAY—"The Kid Comes Back," featuring Wayne Morris, Barton MacLane, June Travis, and "Women Are Like That," starring Kay Francis, Pat O'Brien, with Ralph Forbes; also cartoon short and world news will screen.

WALKER'S—"Mr. Deeds Goes to Town," starring Gary Cooper in return engagement by popular demand, an Academy award film, and "Her Jungle Love," with Dorothy Lamour, Ray Milland, in color; added short screen attractions, too.

THE STATE—"Range Defenders," with Robert Livingston, Max Terhune, Eleanor Stewart, and a variety bill of short subjects including "Cuckoooranche," comedy with all-star cast; "General Jitters," Merrie Melodie cartoon in color; "Flash Gordon's Trip to Mars," serial with Buster Crabbe, and world news.

YORBA

YORBA, June 4.—Leon Boissac and Jacob Lakeman of Fullerton have returned from a fish-trip to Bishop.

George Kellogg and guests, Miss Louise and Fred Cramer of Los Angeles; Mrs. Grace McKee Briggs of Hollywood, and Harry Bergman of Aguares, attended the recent meeting of the Imperial Highway association at Palomar lodge, San Diego county.

Mrs. C. G. Teed has returned home after spending several weeks at their cabin at Fallsdale.

'EX-CON' LIFE IS FILM THEME

Love on parole is the dramatic theme of "You and Me," starring Sylvia Sidney and George Raft, which opens tomorrow at the Broadway theater.

Both Miss Sidney and Raft portray roles of ex-convicts. Raft worked out his parole and marries Miss Sidney, a co-worker in a large department store. The girl, afraid of losing his love, conceals from him the fact that she is still on parole.

When Raft learns of her past he becomes embittered, returns to his "mob," and is only saved from another criminal career by the daring action of his loving wife. Featuring in the excellent supporting cast are Roscoe Karns, George E. Stone, Warren Hymer and Barton MacLane.

A name that once shone brilliantly in front of thousands of movie houses, Dolores Costello, makes its reappearance in "Beloved Brat," second feature. Miss Costello is featured with Little Bonita Granville, resuming the career to which she thought she said farewell some years ago when she retired to wed John Barrymore.

"Beloved Brat" is the story of a wilful, pestiferous and spoiled little brat, played by 14-year-old Bonita, who is regenerated by a strict but kindly teacher in a probationary school, this being Miss Costello. Miss Granville is said to top all her previous work as the girl who had too much of everything except parental understanding. Short subjects include a color cartoon and world news.

'THREE COMRADES' BRINGS AN ALL-STAR CAST TO WEST COAST

"Three Comrades," by the author of "All Quiet on the Western Front" and "The Road Back," is the current attraction at the West Coast theater.

In "Three Comrades" Robert Taylor makes his first appearance since his triumphant return from England where he starred in "A Yank at Oxford," playing one of the three young war veterans who return to their homes to build a new life but find themselves engulfed in revolution.

Margaret Sullivan plays the orphan girl, formerly wealthy, with whom Taylor falls in love and to whom she brings a needed happiness though fateful Franchot Tone has the role of the serious minded Koster, and the third member of the comrade trio is Robert Young, playing the patriotic youth who later is slain in revolutionary battle.

Other important players include Guy Kibee, Lionel Atwell, Henry Hull, Charley Grapewin and Monty Woolley.

Jack Holt has a powerful and active part as star of "Crime Takes a Holiday," the second attraction. Acclaimed as the next governor for his fight against rackets, Holt as district attorney, to top all her previous work as the girl who had too much of everything except parental understanding. Short subjects include a color cartoon and world news.

meets what seems to be almost certain defeat before he wins victory over his enemies.

Douglass Dumbrille, Marcia Ralston and Arthur Hohl have important characterizations. "Polar Trappers," a Mickey Mouse cartoon, and world news complete the program.

POWELL IS TO STAR AT STATE

In response to public demand, "One Way Passage," starring William Powell and Kay Francis, with a splendid supporting cast, will be screened at the State theater beginning tomorrow for a three-day engagement. The film was the outstanding romantic drama of 1932.

"Heroes of the Alamo," based upon the history of Texas' thrilling fight for independence after the 132 defenders of the Alamo, including Davy Crockett, were massacred to the man by General Santa Anna's 5000 soldiers from Mexico, is offered as second feature. "Heroes of the Alamo" is showing in Santa Ana for the first time.

"One Way Passage" is the story of a smart crook who would erase his past life for the love of a girl. William Powell and Kay Francis, perfectly cast, present a gay, catchy romance with a surprise climax. The picture story carries from China to gay Caliente. Powell is cast as an escaped murderer who has been caught by Detective (funny man) Warren Hymer and between Powell's suaveness and Hymer's apparent dumbness, there's built up a fine line of comedy. Topsy Frank McHugh, a world crook who has always managed to sidestep the law provides much merriment during Powell's mad but unsuccessful dash to freedom.

William Powell is seen above, in a romantic moment with Kay Francis, during the screening of "One Way Passage," outstanding romantic drama of 1932, brought back to the State beginning tomorrow, due to popular request. "Heroes of the Alamo," story of the famous massacre at San Antonio, Tex. in 1836, when Texas sought freedom, is second feature.

Hostess Uses Spring Theme For Luncheon

Quite in the mood of the spring season recently yielding place to summer's first month, was the flower motif of a charming party at which Mrs. A. I. Melenthin yesterday entertained in her home, 2340 North Park boulevard. For larkspur plumes in pink, blue and white seemed to breathe the very essence of a California springtime when they were arranged gracefully to center the luncheon tables.

Other flowers in bright hues lent garden charm to the spacious home, where guests followed the luncheon hour with contract play. Mrs. John Ball and Miss Mildred Spicer, scoring first and second high in the session, received the attractive prizes chosen by their hostess.

Mrs. Melenthin welcomed one out-of-town guest at the party, Mrs. Kay Coffin of Los Angeles, who shared the afternoon with Miss Spicer, Mesdames Z. Bertrand West, A. G. Flagg, John Ball, Dexter Ball, Franklin G. West, F. E. Farnsworth, F. E. Farnsworth, Jr., Edward Hall, Charles Spicer, John Scripps, Wilbur Barr, Lloyd Chenoweth, Loyal King, George Sattler, Benjamin J. MacMullen, Lyman Farwell, William Thornton White Jr., Chester Horton, Edgar Elstrom and John Collins.

Earlier Hospitality
This was the week's second pleasant hospitality for which Mrs. Melenthin's home offered setting, for on Wednesday it was rendezvous for her bridge club members, with Mrs. Mary Lacy as co-hostess.

Flowers used for table decorations and about the home were quite as charmingly arranged as for yesterday's function, and the tempting luncheon menu had the same sequel of contract play. High scores won prizes for Mrs. Margaret D. Borgmeyer, Mrs. Leonard G. Swales and Mrs. H. B. Van Dien.

Mrs. Sara Johnston Haddon was present, accompanied by her co-hostess, Mrs. E. L. Morrison. Others in the group in addition to the prize-winning trio, were Mesdames Howard Rapp, George S. Sattler, Will A. Flood of Pasadena, Ray C. Holmes, Hardesten T. Dunning and Benjamin J. MacMullen, with the two hostesses, Mrs. Lacy and Mrs. Melenthin.

Ebell Household Group Hold Annual June Luncheon

Ebell Third Household Economics section's annual June picnic yesterday came as the first affair which the group has ever held at Santiago park. Supervised luncheon was served at noon, while members were seated at a table decked with flowers presented to section members who have summer birthdays.

Section officers were in charge of arrangements for the day. They include Mrs. E. L. Morrison, leader; Mrs. A. N. Cox, assistant leader; and Mrs. W. B. Risk, secretary. Members responded to roll call with short subjects.

Mrs. J. B. Stewart, former member of the section, shared the event with Mesdames E. T. Battey, C. F. Bennett, A. N. Cox, E. F. Cook, C. F. Crose, W. L. Leiby, E. L. Morrison, F. T. Preble, E. H. Prince, C. W. Raindon, W. B. Risk, F. M. Robinson, W. S. Rose, R. D. Sutton and J. L. McBride.

The Schrock's Leave Wednesday for Conclave

The Rev. Perry F. Schrock, pastor of First Presbyterian church, Mrs. Schrock and their daughter, Miss Mary Schrock, 205 West Twentieth street, plan to leave Wednesday for Beloit, Wis., for Congregational General Council meeting.

In session from June 15-22, the national conference will be held on the campus of Beloit college. The Schrock's will be delegates from Southern California. At the close of the meeting, they plan to go to the pastor's former home in Ash-tabula, Ohio, to visit with relatives.

The Santa Anas are making the trip in their new trailer house. Until their return some time in July, their home will be occupied by their son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Schrock. Mrs. Schrock is the former Miss Frances Bassett.

UNIVERSAL CHRISTIAN CHURCH

New President Selects Staff Of Co-Workers

Winding up one of the most successful years in the annals of Junior Ebell society's history, members of the organization met this afternoon at Santa Ana Country club for luncheon and installation of a new staff of officers headed by Miss Elizabeth Smith as president.

Miss Smith succeeds Mrs. Albert Harvey, who was to preside at today's affair. Other new officers are Mrs. George Walker, first vice president; Mrs. Fred Burley, second vice president; Mrs. Quentin Matzen, secretary; Mrs. Ernest Stump Jr., treasurer; Mrs. Walter Bacon, curator.

Coinciding with the assumption of her new duties, Miss Smith announced appointive officers to be filled by the following: Mrs. Harold Harvey, historian; Mrs. Claude Brackbill, parliamentarian; Mrs. R. M. Conklin, social chairman; Mrs. N. Carleton Smith, publicity chairman; Mrs. E. Lee Smith, membership chairman; Mrs. Perry Davis, courtesy chairman; Mrs. Ralph Cunningham, house chairman; Miss Patsy Oliphant, auditor; Mrs. Bruce Anderson, scholarship chairman.

The various committee workers probably will be selected sometime this summer in advance of the year book publication, it was announced today.

On Mrs. Harvey's retiring staff are Mrs. Robert Guild and Mrs. G. Stanley Norton, vice presidents; Mrs. Raymond Terry, secretary; Mrs. Herbert Stroschein, treasurer; Mrs. Chester Horton, curator.

Second Party of Week Is Given By Mrs. W. F. Kistingner

Receiving at the second breakfast within two days time, Mrs. W. F. Kistingner was hostess to 16 guests yesterday at a 12 o'clock affair in her friendly home, 2014 North Broadway.

Guests were Mesdames Leonard Swales, Tarver Montgomery, John Bower, Antonio Segerstrom, D. A. Harwood, A. J. Lashy, C. E. Bressler, Harvey C. Maxwell, R. I. Matthews, Kenneth Sutherland, Walter Vandermast, F. E. Eare, Harry Wetherell, Clarence Bond, Fleetwood Bell and Ellis Diehl.

Assisting during the afternoon were Mrs. Matthews and Mrs. Bond. Flowers used so beautifully in decorating included fragrant Easter lilies, the gift of Mrs. Bower. Low bowls of pansies centered breakfast tables.

Bridge play yielded prizes for the three high scorers, Mesdames A. J. Lashy, Tarver Montgomery and Ellis Diehl.

Shower in Hoy Home Is Compliment To June Bride-elect

Miss Mary Lee Walker, daughter of the Herbert Walkers, whose marriage to James D. MacFarland will take place in mid-June, was feted in charming manner last night when Mrs. W. V. Hoy and her daughters, Mrs. Eugene MacKenney and Miss Wilma Hoy, were hostesses.

The family home at 1225 French street was scene of the hospitality, which was shared by a large group of guests. They spent part of the time embroidering tea towels for the bride-elect. Mrs. MacKenney and Miss Hoy had evolved the clever plan of making a miniature cedar chest with lock and key for use in presenting shower gifts of linens to Miss Walker.

Ice cream slippers and the daintiest of little cakes were served in a setting of white appointments. White roses floated in bubble bowls centering the white-linen spread tables. Easter lilies provided by Mrs. John Bower and other flowers sent by Mrs. John Henderson contributed to the party setting. Aiding in serving were the honoree's sister, Miss Evelyn Walker, and the Misses Maurine Harris and Merline Julian.

Invited to share the affair with Mrs. Hoy, Mrs. MacKenney and Miss Hoy were Mesdames A. J. MacFadden, John MacFadden, John McAuley, John Henderson, Elsie Millman, C. E. Harris, A. J. Lashy, A. G. Finley, S. H. Finley, James Breckenridge, D. P. McBurney, Will McBurney, William Smart, Emmett Raitt, J. T. Raitt, Elsie Woodward, W. J. Lindsay, E. T. McFadden, A. E. Kelly, Ida Foley, Jeannette Johnston and the Misses Flora MacFadden, Maurine Harris, Adda Cowan, Minnie Cowan, Evelyn Walker, Merline Julian, Ada MacFadden, Mabel McFadden; with the honor guest, Miss Mary Lee Walker and her mother, Mrs. Herbert Walker.

Birthdays happen in the best of regulated families—but there aren't many where father and daughter celebrate on two successive days. However, seeing Nellie and G. E. (Orange Grower) Retired R.R. Man) Bruns and Dotter "Gussie" (Mrs. Richard) Cribbar, eating chicken 'n' noodles at our favorite eatery, we discovered that they were having a binge on the genial G.E.'s anniversary Thursday, with that of Dotter Gussie occurring yesterday—both events to be celebrated jointly tomorrow with a park party. One of the most prized remembrances which G.E. received was a letter signed by every member of the Veterans' association of the C.B. and Q. railroad, for which he had the honor as, passenger engineer, of taking the first passenger train into the Union depot of St. Louis many years ago.

A much more recent birthday even is that in the bosom of the Casteix family, with J. B. (Dep. Coroner-Past Legion Com.) Casteix making good on his promise to provide a future Jr. Legion Commander when Frau Mabel presented him with a son Wednesday.... The Casteix Junior heir arrived on Vera (Mrs. Harold) Segerstrom's anniversary. She declared that if one counted by birthday spankings, she was at least 75.... Helen and Charles (Attorney) Swanner and small Dotters Patricia and Cara Lee celebrated Charles' birthday—which he didn't count—by dining out.

Nora (Mrs. W. S.) Buchanan is one of the most charming ministerial wives we know, always ready with gracious word and gay greeting. We hope with the retirement of Spouse Walter Scott (Sky Pilot) from First Christian ministry, these beloved people will not desert Santa Any.... Florence and Walter D. (Excelsior Creamery) Ranney declare they have seen all too little of the coast country, so are to be shown the ropes soon by Blanche and James E. (Interstate Finance Co.) Liebig when the four depart on a northward trek.... Ruby and George (Reg. Court Reporter) Hart already are planning their annual jaunt to Oregon.... Norma (Mrs. Clarence) Sorenson and cunning Son are here from Vancouver to spend June days with Norma's Maw and Paw Jean and W. W. (Rancher) Tantlinger. What a quartet of lovely gals—Norma and Sisters Ruth (Mrs. John) Newman of Lemon Heights, Jean (Mrs. John) Ebersole of Tustin, and Helen (Mrs. Rudolph) Richards of Pomona. Ruth Newman by the way, is one of the Junior Ebell gals getting nurseries in trim.

Mary (Former Girl Reserve Sec.) Porter surprised Santa Any friends this week with her arrival from Berkeley where she's been on the loose from Y. work, with special courses at Cal.... Expected home from the east "sometime in June" is Nancy (Mrs. Emory) White who sang our city's praises at Women's clubs Gen. Fed. meeting in Kansas City.... Hope Florence and Crawford (Ins.) Nalle's English shag dog feels better than he did last week-end when he got very special treatment with everything to tempt his lagging appetite—oh for a dog's life!... Beatrice (Chiropractor) Schneid a gracious orchid that had been a gift to her, to one of her sister Altruists to wear to a swank wedding.... Gertrude and Herbert (Holly Sugar) Foreman Birt are alone for the first time in many years of wedded life now that Sons John and Herbert are both married—we suggested a second honeymoon but Gertrude said her spouse was too busy making sugar—whatta contradiction!

Patty (Vivacious Blonde) Rapp will be welcomed home by Maw and Paw Jess and Howard (Tow) Co. Rapp just a week from today.... Our pedagogues are busy on other things than exams these days, for romance is in the air.... Vesta (Journalism Teacher) Nickerson and Philip (Los Angeles) Lukei have named June 22.... John S. (Teacher) Dickey and Doris (San Gabriel) Olwin are a bit earlier, with June 18.... Marian (Oxy Grad) Parsons won her degree "nevertheless, but that didn't keep her from picking out vegetable 'n' a sidewalk stand.... 'Snice to have Carolyn and Frank Thompson back in town again.... "Wonder if they're always this active!" ejaculated Holly (Viel Studios and Sweet Singer) and Nelson (Rancher) Viel when they returned from an outing alone with active small Sons Stanley Jr. and Jon.... Pauline (Mrs. Douglas) Ferrey and Maw and Paw Helen and George (Bd. of Ed.) Wells enjoying a show together.... Maude (Mrs. A. N.) Zerman tripping briskly down street in about the smartest dark blue knitted outfit we've seen.

(Im) Pertinent Facts.... Adrian (Attorney) Marks' little black mustache gives him an air of distinction.... Beryl (Mrs. Clyde) Higgins has a fragile, brunet loveliness that is quite disarming.... Elsie (Mrs. Rex) Kennedy doesn't seem to slide over her R's, but her voice sounds like all the lovely magnolias of the Deep South heaped together.... Arthur (Com. Player-Hunting) Beach Chapman has a sort of John Barrymore-ish profile, hasn't he?... ### Trio Of Attractive Young Women

Two brides and a junior club president are pictured today.... Mrs. Daniel Jones the former Miss Elsie Siemsen, daughter of the William H. Siemens, 1810 North Main street, is pictured in the satin gown she wore in late April when she and Mr. Jones were wedded in Glendale's Wee Kirk O' the Heather. The young people are living at 1107 Bush street.... Miss Elizabeth Smith, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph P. Smith, 120 South Broadway, has been honored by Santa Ana Junior Ebell society by election to the presidency of this important group. Her installation was a feature of a smart luncheon today at the Country club.... Mrs. William E. Doyle is a very recent bride, the former Miss Molly Wolford, daughter of Mrs. M. Wolford of Buena Park. Her marriage to Mr. Doyle of Whittier, occurred Thursday in Las Vegas, Nev., and the honeymoon trip is taking the young people to Flint, Mich., and thence in their new car to New York City and Washington, D. C. They will live in Whittier.

Pretty Centerpieces Serve As Bridge Prizes

Bubble bowls filled with varnished flowers, served as table centerpieces and bridge prizes as well when Mr. and Mrs. James Hird entertained at a pretty affair Thursday evening in their home, 1602 West Third street.

Winning the attractive awards were Mrs. Morjorie Dudley, Miss Anna Ekdahl, Miss Ethel Froeschle and John Paul. Shrawberry shortcake featured the inviting refreshment course served late in the evening. Repeating the tones of the small table centerpieces, with their slender bouquet tapers, was a large bouquet of mixed blossoms adorning the dining room table.

Sharing the Hirds' hospitality were Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Mitchell, Mr. and Mrs. John Paul; Mesdames Marjorie Dudley, Theo Bolte and the Misses Jessie Scott, Mary Beasley, Hazel McFarland, Ethel Froeschle, Mildred Mead, Fern Tedrow, Anna Ekdahl and June Arnold.

Charm of Early Summer Expressed in Luncheon Decorations

Expressing the charm of early summer with a sunny yellow and white motif, Mrs. Ronald Crookshank entertained two groups of friends at parties given Thursday and Friday in her home, 1020 Lowell street.

Scotch broom, yellow roses, gladioluses and countless other flowers established the theme for the hospitalities on the two successive days. In addition to blossoms from her own gardens, Mrs. Crookshank decorated with bouquets sent by her husband's aunt, Mrs. A. J. Cruickshank.

Yellow violas centered luncheon tables. Assisting on Thursday was Mr. Crookshank's mother, Mrs. Clarence Crookshank. Winning bridge prizes at the initial affair were Mrs. Quentin Matzen and Mrs. James Whyte (Eleanor Crookshank).

Four tables of bridge were in play at each of the two parties. Winning prizes yesterday were Mrs. Russell Sullivan and Mrs. Frank Humphrey of Los Angeles. The hostess's mother, Mrs. F. W. Dudgeon assisted in entertaining.

St. Joseph Rectory is Setting for Four O'clock Ceremony

Choosing 4 o'clock this afternoon as the hour for her wedding to Lieut. George F. Stanish of the U.S.S. Northampton, Miss Constance Muriel Ball of Great Falls, Mont., was to be bride at rites in St. Joseph rectory.

Miss Ball has been visiting for the past few days in the home of old friends, Mr. and Mrs. L. S. Mortenson, 410 West Nineteenth street. She is daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Harvey Ball of Great Falls. The bridegroom is son of George F. Stanish, also of Great Falls.

The Rev. Father Francis O'Brien is officiating at today's wedding, for which the bride is wearing a navy blue silk suit with blue accessories and a white orchid. Miss Stanish, student at University of Southern California, as maid of honor, has chosen an all white costume. Barney Smith is best man. Lieutenant Stanish and his shipmates were to be in white dress uniforms.

Following the wedding, guests were to assemble at the Mortenson home for cocktails. In deference to the navy, red, white and blue flowers were to carry out a patriotic theme with anchors and navy insignia adding to the charm of table appointments. Mrs. Mortenson was to receive in a black and white twin print with black picture hat.

Lieutenant Stanish and his bride plan to spend their honeymoon at Lake Tahoe and Yosemite, and later will establish their home in Long Beach. The bridegroom, who attended Alabama Military academy, was graduated from Annapolis in 1934. His bride attended University of Washington at Seattle.

Mrs. Harvey Gardner Entertains At Charming Affair

Mrs. A. M. Gardner's daughter-in-law, Mrs. Harvey Gardner paid her charming courtesy yesterday afternoon by entertaining at a luncheon and bridge event for a group of the senior Mrs. Gardner's friends.

The hostess's home, 2026 North Main street was abloom with flowers for the affair. Since Mrs. Harvey Gardner and Mrs. Hubert Hall had used violas in decorating for a recent party which they gave together, it seemed especially nice that Mrs. Hall should send quantities of the dainty little blossoms for yesterday's party. The violas established a yellow and violet motif expressed in place cards and other decorative details.

Mrs. Harvey Gardner's sister-in-law, Mrs. J. S. Finor III of Anaheim provided a lovely bouquet of gladioluses, delphinium and snapdragons. Roses and other flowers from the home gardens completed the setting. Mr. Gardner's sister, Mrs. H. H. Knowlton assisted in serving.

Attractive bridge prizes rewarded Mesdames A. M. Gardner, I. F. Landis and Charles Carothers for their high scores.

Asked to share the event with the hostess and her honoree, Mrs. A. M. Gardner were Mesdames J. E. Gowen, S. M. Davis, Maxwell Burke, E. E. Keech, Roy Hall, H. E. Heil, William Otis, C. A. Vance, A. W. Rutan, Clyde Walker, G. E. Bruns, W. B. Williams, Alex Brownridge, F. P. Nicker, J. S. Smart, I. F. Landis and Charles Carothers.

Contract Play Enjoyed After Luncheon Hour

Several delightful parties are finding setting these sunny early summer days in the home of Dr. and Mrs. Hubert B. Nall, 2139 North Flower street. At some of these, Mrs. Nall is joined by another hostess, as was the case a week ago when she and Mrs. Harvey Gardner had mutual friends in for luncheon and contract. But yesterday, Mrs. Nall received alone, as she will do again within a few days, when contract again will follow a pleasant luncheon hour.

Four of yesterday's guests, Mrs. Henry Williams, Mrs. Eugene Robertson, Mrs. Harold Segerstrom and Mrs. Lyle Anderson, sent flowers for the event. Their bright colors added charm to the scene when guests found places at small foursome tables for the luncheon hour. Each table had its low bowl of violas and maidenhair fern, one in white, one in deep blue and two in yellow.

Place cards, later used for tallies, harmonized with the table arrangements, and were in water color design, the work of the hostess. The latter was assisted in serving and other details of the afternoon by Mrs. Donald Hilliard. Before the afternoon came to a close, Miss Frances Nall arrived from school and greeted her mother's friends.

The two high scores in contract were made by Mrs. Roy Langley and Mrs. Everett H. Fuller, and were rewarded with silver bonbon spoons. Mrs. Nall's guests also included Mesdames Henry S. Williams, Clarence Holmes, Eugene Robinson, Harold Segerstrom, Milo K. Tedstrom, Lyle Anderson, Carl Edgar, Kenneth Coulson, Harvey Spears, Roscoe G. Hewitt, Fred Merker, Donald Hillyard, William J. Stauffer and Emmett Elliott.

Mrs. Jones Continues With Series of Early Summer Parties

Continuing a series of hospitalities introduced several weeks ago with a delightful supper party, Mrs. S. A. Jones was a bridge luncheon hostess Thursday in her home, 2327 Benton Way.

The charming arrangement of flowers heightened enjoyment of guests in the luncheon menu, served at small tables grouped in friendly proximity. Among the blossoms were snapdragons sent by Mrs. Lansing B. Hill and a striking arrangement of Iceland poppies and wheat sprays, the gift of Miss Blanche Tiede.

Bridge prizes expressed variety, and included crystal compotes and handkerchiefs of exquisite handwork. Winners were those who made high scores at the four tables in play, Mrs. Clyde Bach, Mrs. J. W. Hancock, Mrs. John Vernon and Mrs. J. L. Marshall. Others in the guest group were the Misses Mary Craig and Blanche Tiede, Mesdames C. H. Baird, F. E. Dearth, Lansing B. Hill, C. E. Moore, and Nan Dale.

Plans of Mrs. Jones for the series of functions she is adding to the early summer social calendar, include a bridge luncheon with which she will be joined Tuesday by Mrs. Frank F. Mead in greeting mutual friends at Santa Ana Country club.

Tri-Y Girl Reserves Plan Installation

Anticipated as an annual affair is the pa-ma-and-me banquet which Tri-Y Girl Reserves will give Monday evening at 6:15 o'clock in the Y. W. rooms. Installation of officers will be a feature of the program.

Taking over their duties will be the Misses La Von Gold, president; Mary Markel, vice president; Emil Jones, secretary; Hollis Tibbals, treasurer; Majel Michel, devotional chairman; Ruth Corcoran, ring chairman; Ruth Ames, publicity; Anita Potter, senior representative; Verna Belle Maroney, social chairman.

Mrs. John Tessman will give a talk on "Women of the Future." Presentation of Girl Reserve rings will take place under direction of the advisor, Miss Mary Schofield, who is assisting with the ring service. Miss Jackie Morrison, retiring president, who will preside over the dinner program, is chairman of the installation.

Miss Muriel Walker is responsible for programs, and Miss Dorothy Ann Parker is chairman of entertainment.

Week's Second Party Held In Pleasant Home

One of the most hospitable homes in the city, that of the Theo. A. Winbigler, 207 East Ninth street, for the second time within the week, was rendezvous for a group of friends, when Mrs. Winbigler was joined Thursday by her son's wife, Mrs. Ernest Winbigler, in giving a luncheon and bridge party.

The combination of Spanish primroses and delphinium had proven so effective as table decorations for a luncheon at which the senior Mrs. Winbigler and Mrs. Benjamin H. Sharpless had entertained Tuesday, that it was applied to Thursday's tables. Mrs. Sharpless and Mrs. James T. Liebig gave assistance in serving the menu.

Bridge tables were grouped in the drawing room where Mrs. Liebig had arranged flowers very effectively for the hostesses. She provided deep red roses to accent the vivid centers of a graceful mauve flower, also from the Liebig gardens, and in other groupings used pink roses sent by Mrs. Elmer Barr Burns.

Ice water pitchers of graceful design in turquoise and ivory pottery, were contract prizes awarded by the hostesses to Mrs. Frank Harwood, Mrs. Ellis Diehl and Mrs. J. B. Roberts, with the three high scores of the afternoon.

On the guest list of the two hostesses were Mesdames Adam Zaiser, Maurice A. Yarnell, John Wehrly, John Lucien Wehrly, Harry Westover, Don Andrews, C. P. Boyer, George Briggs, J. Frank Burke, Elmer Barr Burns, Clarence Bond, R. S. Chandler, Ellis Diehl, Charles Drutt, L. E. Tarbox, Howard Timmons, Leonard G. Swales, Thomas H. Willits, Dr. Mary Wright.
Mesdames J. S. Hart, Benjamin H. Sharpless, Antonio Segerstrom, Clifton Steele, Maurice Enderle, Fred Eare, D. A. Harwood, J. B. Roberts, A. J. Lashy, Harvey Gardner, Frank Harwood, Loyal King, Mark Lacy, Arthur Lyon, Arthur May, Tarver Montgomery, Cotton Mather, Lewis F. Moulton, Howard Rapp and Stanley Reinhaus.

First Birthday Party Is Happy Event

Many Santa Ana friends and relatives were present at a pretty party given recently in the O. H. Johnson home in Huntington Beach to celebrate the first birthday anniversary of tiny Margie Ann Johnson.

Circus table cover and napkins were used, and bright balloons were grouped about the birthday cake with its one pink taper. Animal cookies and ice cream were served the small guests, who received rubber balls and balloons as favors. Older guests had their refreshments on prettily appointed trays. Motion pictures were taken during the afternoon.

Little Margie Ann had her mother's aid in opening the many gift packages from party guests who were her grandmother and aunts, Mrs. O. C. Dennie and the Misses Margie and Naomi Dennie, with Mrs. Charles Imm and son Dickie Dee, Mrs. Gene Hartman and children, Donnie and Patsy Ann, Mrs. Joe Hammon and daughter Diane Lee, Mrs. Lucille Thompson and daughter Berta Carol, Mrs. V. L. Motry, Santa Ana; Mrs. H. A. Colby, Mrs. Paul Kimball and daughter Dorothy Lou, Tustin; Mrs. Charlotte Palmer, Costa Mesa; Mrs. Henry Thier and daughter, Patsy Lynn, Mrs. Pauline Lender and daughter JoAnn, Huntington Beach.

Party Guests Present Many Shower Gifts To Bride-to-Be

Adding another to the list of gay pre-nuptial parties for Miss Iris Crawford, fiancée of Roy Ross, was the gift shower at which Miss Margie Dennie entertained Wednesday night in the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. O. C. Dennie, 1030 West Chestnut street.

Mrs. Dennie assisted her daughter in all friendly hostilities of the evening. They had corsage clusters of sweet peas and ferns in readiness as guests arrived. The tables were placed for coquet play in which prizes were won by the honoree, Miss Crawford, and Miss Irma Lu Barker.

Pretty table decorations for the refreshment hour featured small bride and groom figures treating a pathway of rose petals, with sweet peas and pansies as additional charm. Cake and ice cream accepted the tones of pink in flower decorations.

To Miss Crawford was presented a succession of card clues which she followed eventually to the front door where she found a large pink basket in which miscellaneous shower gifts were placed.

Asked to enjoy the evening with Miss Dennie and her mother, were their honor guest, Miss Crawford, with her mother and sister, Mrs. George Crawford and Miss Lorraine Crawford, the Misses Erma Barker, Beryl Bates, Janet Bates, Josephine Birdsall, Vivian Hazen, Jean Thwaite, Cleo Adrian, LeDean Laub and Jackie Bradford.

Pierian Club Elects At Balboa Island Event

When Pierian club members met recently in the Balboa Island home of Mrs. J. D. Watkins, they elected officers and took part in a varied program. Mrs. Jennie Crawford was named president; Mrs. Watkins, vice-president and Florence McKee, secretary.

The program included "May Queen" by Artie Warner; "Month of May," Agnes Bond; "Maytime to Me," Winifred Tacker; "From Every Corner" and "Those We Fear," Grace Ladd; "Apple Blossoms," Helen Guthrie; "April Fool's May Day," Florence McKee. Mrs. Bessie Nalle read a number of poems by Mary Perdue of this city. They included "Old Prospector," accepted by Desert Magazine, "A Tangled Garden," "The Merry Month of May" and "A May Day Dream." Mrs. Crawford read "Happy Maytime Days"; Mrs. Fannie Davis, "Blossom Time"; Sara Bowman, "Candles of the Lord"; and "Wild Verbena"; Mrs. Watkins, "When Spring and Summer Meet"; Margaret Church, "Maytime" and Ethel Gerrard, "Gardening."

The group enjoyed picnic luncheon at noon.

Section Year Closes With Luncheon

Concluding their club year of enjoyable card parties, members of Woman's club social section met Thursday for covered dish luncheon with Mrs. E. A. Elwell, 825 South Van Ness avenue.

While there was some informal bridge play during the afternoon, the greater part of the time was spent examining the display of carved linoleum work brought for the occasion by Mrs. Bobzin, craft chairman of the Lynwood Women's club. The handsome articles included, screens, tables, plaques and a variety of pieces both ornamental and useful.

Present with Mrs. Elwell in addition to the special guest, Mrs. Bobzin, were Mesdames R. A. McMahon, L. E. Tarbox, W. L. Harbert, Stephen Quinn, Richard P. Gatt, Earl Ladd, J. G. Limbird, H. M. Kinslow, Charles Budd and E. M. Waycott.

Vacation Experiences Interest Members

When members of Veterans Rebekah association assembled Friday afternoon in I. O. O. F. hall, they took part in an informal program in which the vacation note dominated all other themes.

Since several members had taken recent trips, descriptions of these travels through Southern California beauty spots as well as Grand Canyon and Boulder dam, proved of special interest.

Films were made for the next meeting, which will take place early in July in the home of Mrs. E. C. Kuhl, 606 Garfield street. All members and their husbands are invited to attend.

ATTEND GRADUATION

Mrs. O. Scott McFarland and daughter, Miss Alice Clare McFarland, 303 Orange avenue, and Mrs. J. C. Sexton, 1407 Spurgeon street, were in Los Angeles this afternoon for U. S. C. commencement exercises. Miss Mary Lou McFarland and Miss Louise Sexton are members of the graduating class.

Accompanying the Santa Anas to the rites were Miss Chiang Liu of Foochow, China, who just arrived in the United States. Having recently completed her studies in a mission school, she plans to study at Ohio Wesleyan next fall. She was a guest of Mrs. McFarland yesterday.

Mixing Bowl

BY ANN MEREDITH

Strawberry jam, made in quantity and boiled for hours, can't help but be dark in color and strong in flavor. If you will follow this recipe, not only will your jam be perfect but you'll get through in just the same time. We call this "Aunt Mary's Jam" in our family.

Clean choice ripe strawberries (3 boxes) wash and shake dry. Put them into a wide shallow pan, cover with 5 1/2 cups of fine white sugar and shake the pan over a low flame until the heat starts the juice flowing. Bring to a quick boil as soon as the sugar has melted. Time from the moment boiling starts and cook seven minutes. Stir in 1/2 cup strained lemon juice and cook two minutes longer (9 minutes in all). Pour at once into small jars and cover with paraffin.

This is the ideal recipe for the girl just starting housekeeping, and for small families who like just a few jars of jam but want a very choice product.

In the big Calory List you'll find calories listed for such things as strawberry jam by the spoonful. When tempted to take that extra spoonful on hot toast or muffins, just take a peek at the list and resist temptation if you are passing the plump point in weight.

The list is free if you write for it, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope and one of your favorite recipes.

TODAY'S RECIPES

Tomato Soup French Dressing 1 can tomato soup 1 tsp salt 1/2 tsp, each, paprika and pepper 1 tsp, each, dry mustard and onion juice 1 clove garlic, left whole but crushed 3/4 cup mild wine vinegar 1 1/2 cups salad oil Sugar to taste (start with 1/4 cup)

Put all ingredients into a fruit jar, securely capped, and shake until mixed to a smooth thick emulsion. Keep covered and well chilled.

By adding mayonnaise to a cup of the dressing, some drained sweet pickle relish, parsley and chives, you have a satisfactory Thousand Island dressing.

Moist Fudge Cup Cakes With Coffee Date Frosting 1/2 cup soft butter creamed with 1 1/2 cups sifted powdered sugar 2 egg yolks unbeaten 2 cups cake flour, measured after sifting 1/2 tsp salt and 3 tps baking powder sifted twice with flour 2 squares baking chocolate, shaved and melted in double boiler with 1/2 cup granulated sugar and 1 tsp vanilla 2/3 cup sweet milk 2 egg whites beaten stiff. Cream butter and powdered sugar, add 1 egg yolk and beat. After melting the chocolate, add the second egg yolk to chocolate, whip well and cool. Alternate milk, flour and cooled chocolate in mixing the batter, fold in beaten whites and bake 20 minutes in a moderate oven (yield: about two dozen cakes).

Frost all or part of the cakes with this delicious date frosting. Blend—3 tps soft butter with 1/4 tsp salt and gradually work in 1/2 cup sifted powdered sugar. Combine and scald 3 tps strong coffee and 2 tps thick cream. Alternate in mixing with creamed butter, using additional 2 1/2 cups sifted powdered sugar. Add 1/2 to 1 full cup of ground dates. Pile on top of cakes. Au revoir until Monday.

Bon Voyage Features Add to Enjoyment Of Club Party

Mrs. Bertha Meyers plans to leave June 25 as a member of Julia Ann Hyde's party going to Alaska, inspired bon voyage features shared by Christmas club members of Orange yesterday when they met in Santa Ana's Birch park.

Members showered Mrs. Meyers with an array of dainty handkerchiefs. Picnic luncheon was enjoyed at noon. Adding to the enjoyment of this interval was a pretty cake which Mrs. Will Dryer had made for Mrs. Meyers. Inscribed on the frosting of the confection were the words, "Bon Voyage."

The affair came as the club's final event of the season, with activities to be resumed in the fall. Members and guests present were Mrs. Meyers and her son, Fritz Meyers; Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Brown, Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Hitchcock, Mrs. Thomas Morin, Mrs. Olivia Holt, Mrs. Hattie Davis, Mr. and Mrs. Will Dryer, Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Kneel, and Mrs. Thomas Towns.

Mrs. Hyde's "Down the Yukon River" trip will be her second annual Alaskan tour. The party will arrive in Seattle on the afternoon of June 27, and early the following morning will begin the steamer trip sailing through the sheltered seas of the Inside Passage enroute to Skagway.

Child Study Club Joins Literary Guild

Making plans to join the Junior Literary Guild, members of Child Study section met Thursday evening in the home of Mrs. Forrest White, 1027 North Olive street.

"Hidden Springs in Conduct" was the theme for discussion led by Mrs. J. E. Sims. Refreshments were served by the hostess.

Guests were Mesdames John W. Fraley, Ernest Hill, Virgil Kiser, Kenneth Loughton, Guy Matrics, Herbert Parsons, Fred Ray, Cecil Sauer, J. E. Sims, J. L. Wilson, Cotton Bennett and William Humphrey.

The next meeting will be held June 16 in the home of Mrs. Kiser, 1336 Cypress avenue.

Torqua Councilors Outline Camp Plans

When Girl Reserve leaders met Thursday evening in the Newport Beach home of Mrs. Charles Robinson of Orange, they completed plans for camp at Torqua, Catalina Island the week of June 18.

Mrs. Robinson, who will serve as director, will be assisted by Miss Edna Munford of Fullerton, as instructor in leather work; Mrs. Johnnie McCulloch, local Girl Reserve secretary and the Misses Maxine Knight, Jackie Morrison and Margaret Maroney, swimming; Miss Roberta Nichols, kitchen; Miss Maroney also will be newspaper editor.

Camp assistants will include Miss Betty Neff and Miss Helen Hicks of this city; Miss Kay Fisher of Orange and Miss Marilyn Miller of Long Beach. Miss Clara Spelman of Newport Beach will be music instructor.

George Anderson of Franklin street, this city, and Ethel Tunstall of Huntington Beach; and Robert S. Ellis of Santa Ana and Myra L. Carr of Los Angeles have filed notices of intention to wed in Los Angeles.

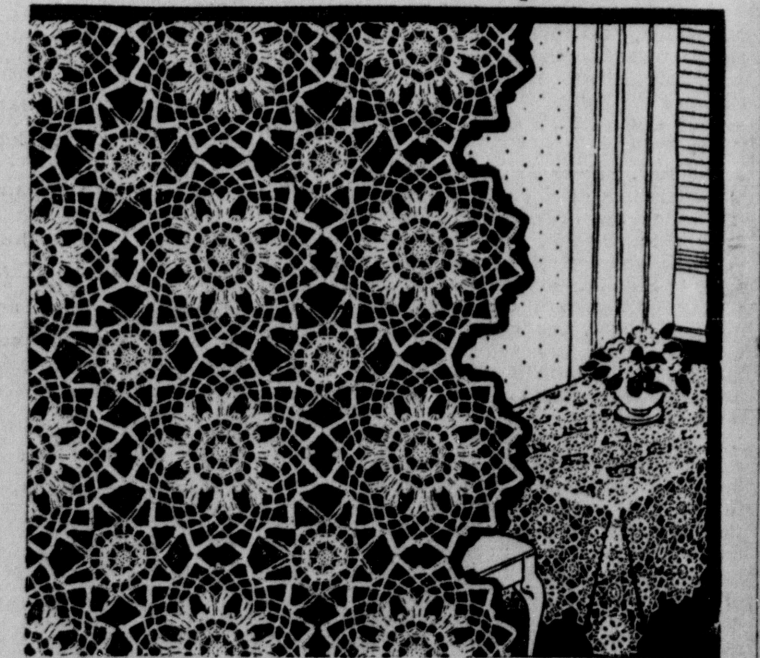

Jubilettes Are Guests Of Mrs. Coulson

Jubilettes spent the evening playing various games and chatting when they were entertained Thursday in the home of Mrs. Kenneth Coulson, 211 North Flower street. Mrs. Jack Kahler and Mrs. James Coulson won prizes.

Cantaloupe sundaes were served to the group, who included the hostess and Mesdames James Coulson, James Ryan, Charles Tulene, Harvey Dimmitt, Jack Kahler, Louis Braasch, George Peterson, W. G. Pagenkopf, A. V. Newell and Joseph Hamblet.

The next event will be a supper meeting Thursday, July 7 at 6:30 p. m. in the home of Mrs. Harvey Dimmitt, 2345 Riverside Drive.

the city.

FIRST BAPTIST CHURCH

Our Children

TACTLESS FRIENDS
Jean does fairly well in school; gets passing marks and a little over, except in spelling. She is quite as happy spelling captain with a K as with a C, and is not concerned about the relative place of the A and the L. Lucky if they both get in. A deficiency in spelling is nothing to cheer about in the seventh year. The English teacher is inclined to consider it a serious matter and act accordingly. After all there are standards in English that the schools accept as a matter of course, and a pupil who gets a red-inked mark in spelling is deficient, as a matter of course, and that means trouble and plenty of it at promotion time.

Jean brought home a D in spelling for the third time this term and her mother made some sharply pointed remarks about it, and intimated that the one interest in her life for the coming month would be Jean's spelling list.

"O, don't take it so seriously," broke in Aunt Marie who happened to be in just then. "Look at her father. Why I remember mother making him do his spelling lesson before she let him out to play because he was always missing words like Receive and Therefore. He hasn't done so badly for himself."

Jean brightened immediately. "There, mother! Did you hear that? Daddy couldn't spell, either. I guess I'll get by if he did."

Mother was in a hard place, but after Aunt Marie left she said, "Now Jean, get your spelling list. I am going to divide it in sections and you are going to learn every word in every section so thoroughly that you will never miss one again. You are going to do this, and I am going to see you do it. No use balking. I mean this."

Some children have difficulty in spelling because of poor hearing, or defective vision, or worse yet, a defect in the nervous system that is concerned with spelling. They need medical help. But many children can be taught to spell if their attention is directed to the job. Jean was one of these. She learned to spell. This was the method her mother found best:

Look at the word; write it from copy, saying each letter aloud as written. Turn the paper; write the word from memory. Compare it with the correctly copied one. If it is right, take the next word. If wrong, write it from copy, saying each letter aloud, two times. Turn the paper and compare it. If it is right, go ahead. If wrong, write it on a special list and take the next word.

Next lesson, take the words on the special list. Write each once from copy saying each letter aloud. Turn the paper. Write the word from memory, compare it with the correct one. If it is right, go ahead; if wrong write it two times, saying the letters aloud, from copy. Turn the paper and write it from memory. If it is right, go ahead. If not, write it two times from copy and list it on the special list. Do no more drilling than that. Each week go over the entire list, gradually building up a special review list and dropping out the words that are well known. Any child who has no major spelling defect can learn to spell any English word in this way. If helpful friends would only understand that they do not know enough about any of their friends' children to advise about them, it would help.

The warty snail produces its spawn in a beautiful white ribbon, many times its own length.

tion is not caused by heat of compression as the compression ratio of this engine is slightly over half of that of four cycle automobile engines.

Clean Exhaust Gas

It must be remembered that in the new engine all fuels are carbureted, not injected, acceleration being equally good on all of them. The fuels are burned cleanly and completely, and with absolutely no detonating or ping. There are no auxiliary heating units or devices of any kind. The completeness of the combustion results in an exhaust gas free from the deadly carbon-monoxide.

One of the most outstanding features of the engine is its high thermal efficiency. While the temperature of the explosion is as high or higher than in conventional engines, very little heat is lost to the cooling system and the temperature of the exhaust is less than on half that of the conventional four cycle engine.

Operation Cost Lower

"For every dollar a motorist spends on fuel now, he would be spending one-fifth or less that amount to operate his car with the new Kinslow engine," the inventor said.

"I realize that the foregoing statements regarding the engine may be difficult to believe," Kinslow said, "but they are made as a result of experiments which my assistant, H. A. Lawrence, formerly an officer in the Chemical Warfare Service of the U. S. Army, and I have conducted for about a year. All possible forms of hard service and abuse were devised to try to the utmost the new principles built into the engine. From these tests the facts were established upon which the preceding statements were made."

Variety of Types

The engine can be built in any form desired to meet any type service or work requirements, such as automobiles, trucks, tractors, stationary engines, marine engines and radial or in-line engines for airplanes.

In the airplane of the future equipped with Kinslow engines, a large proportion of the weight of fuel and tanks can be eliminated because of the engine's great economy; fire-hazard is eliminated by use of low volatility fuels, thus there will be no ships crashing in flames with the great loss of life which occurs with the highly volatile gasoline. For the same weight engine, horsepower is nearly doubled thus assuring adequate reserves of power to pull a ship out of tight spot. Furthermore, the fact that the engine runs without ignition, makes it impossible for an engine to cut out because of electrical failure.

Corporation Formed

Interest in Kinslow's motor has been evidenced during the past few months as the result of numerous visits from representatives of Eastern manufacturers.

Among others, Glean Martin, builder of giant Clipper ships, has expressed interest in the development of the new motor.

Rather than have production of the motor take place in the East, Kinslow and his associates have formed a corporation for the purpose of manufacturing the engine in Santa Ana. Plans concerning the mass production of the Kinslow engine are in the stage of completion.

IS PAYING RANSOM A CRIME?

As we have kidnapers being successful in receiving ransoms, the question arises as to whether it is to public interest as a whole for any individual to pay a ransom to a kidnaper.

Without a Federal law making it a crime to pay a kidnaper, an unfortunate parent or relative of a kidnaped party is in a very precarious and embarrassing position. It would seem the Federal Government should relieve any man of this embarrassment by passing a law making it a crime to pay ransoms. This would have a tendency, of course, to discourage kidnapers as ransom would have to be paid secretly and denied if actually paid. It certainly would have a tendency to remove the incentive of kidnaping.

DELAY AND EXPENSE

With Uncle Sam laying out quite a piece of change for a Tennessee Valley investigation this summer, news comes that constitutionality of the whole Tennessee Valley Authority may be reviewed by the United States Supreme Court next fall.

Yes, that's right, next fall. The decision last winter merely upheld the right of TVA to sell power generated at Wilson Dam. This new case would cover the whole business.

This means that while the investigation may give TVA a clean bill, the possibility remains that the high court might kick the props out from under the entire works.

That in turn would mean that a lot of money had been spent on something that was unconstitutional to begin with, and that an additional wad of cash had been unwrapped to investigate the unconstitutional project.

All of which seems to argue against the present expensive delays in the American system of judicial review. The TVA litigation has been kicking around in the lower courts for years. The theory that time is needed to gain proper perspective still holds. But most taxpayers are likely to think that the perspective comes pretty dear.

PAGEANT OF THE YEARS

A barber in Vermont celebrated his 99th birthday the other day. He had been snipping, clipping, combing, dousing and masaging since the age of 17.

What an extraordinary pageant of social history had passed before his eyes during those years behind the chair! What remarkable changes in the character of the American scene he had witnessed, mirrored in that little shop!

Once the talk was of barehanded baseball. Then it was talk about baseball with gloves.

Trouser cuffs went from wide to narrow, to wide, and back to narrow again.

The customers panned new administrations almost every four years.

Collars went from hard to soft and back to hard, and back to soft; high, low, high again, low.

Hair went from long to short, and the part traveled all over the head.

Witch hazel in fancy bottles progressed to witch hazel in streamlined bottles.

And over the customers' shoulders he watched the old Police Gazette, with its pictures of lovely girls in tights, give way to the modern periodical, with its pictures—of lovely girls.

WHAT IS DISHONESTY?

Scandal mongers in all likelihood will be disappointed in the investigation of the Tennessee Valley Authority. As Gareth Garrett recently pointed out in an article in the Saturday Evening Post, "There is no black bag." Nobody has stolen vast sums of money.

The dishonesty involved in the TVA controversy is of a far more serious nature than simple embezzlement or theft of money. It involves the very integrity of the government itself.

For example, the preamble of the act itself, creating the Tennessee Valley Authority, dedicates TVA to the job of developing agriculture, flood control, redeeming marginal lands and providing for the national defense and other patently constitutional undertakings. But, to quote Mr. Garrett: "not a word about electric power in the preamble. Yet one-third of the entire text is devoted to the development and sale of power." Is this honesty in government?

Ever since its inception, the Tennessee Valley Authority has pursued policies of outright destruction in all dealings with private electric utilities. It has built tax-free, publicly subsidized, competing facilities and negotiates with private utilities in the Tennessee Valley only on a forced sale basis. That is, if the private companies refuse to sell out at an arbitrary, TVA, backed by the fist of government, promises to drive them out of business and wreck the investments of hundreds of thousands of stockholders, meanwhile carefully shying away from condemnation proceedings that would result in a fair and impartial settlement in court. Is this not sharp practice?

Most important of all, TVA is an insidious wedge that is introducing socialism in the United States unbeknown to the average voter. And this alone represents neither honesty nor decency in public life.

News Behind the News

By PAUL MALLON

World Copyright 1938

By King Features Syndicate, Inc.

WASHINGTON, June 4.—All known undertaking records have been broken by the White House legislative morticians in their painful tasks lately.

The revived reorganization bill was laid away before it hit the ground. The spend-lend plan to build competing government lines against the utilities was patted quickly by an official spade, with wholly inadequate obsequies.

As Coroner Roosevelt issued the death certificates only by proxy, no one may ever know exactly what happened. As a matter of fact none of the members of the official family seem to want to know, or say. They are content to keep it out of the newspapers and let it rest in whatever public peace can be maintained about it.

For this reason some very lively wakes at the White House lately may go unrecorded for posterity.

At two of these Mr. Garner, the v. p., appears to have again been the life of the grim party. He got his steam up, once at a cabinet meeting where the utilities matter was discussed and again at one of those conferences of congressional leaders with the president.

His free way of speaking his mind sincerely in the past has led to the publication of accounts, which may have been considered embarrassing by some persons. Consequently these two most recent incidents have been mentioned only vaguely and in speculative whispers among the insiders.

However, Mr. Garner, himself has told several of his colleagues that there seems to be no use in him going down to those "dabbed confidential meetings any more." His lament was that he "gets so hot up that I can't keep from letting off steam while I'm there and more so when I get out."

Mr. Garner's steam on these two occasions is reported to have approximated the blood-pressure of a bear-cat thoroughly aroused. As near as can be ascertained from downtown authorities, with good White House contacts, the mild residue from condensation of the vice president's remarks was that it was "ridiculous" to attempt to put through the reorganization bill at the close of the congressional session when everyone was thinking only about going home.

The cabinet session on the utilities matter was even warmer. Garner has always been an anti-utilities man, but he is reliably reported to have taken the position that the government was going much too far when it proposed to spend taxpayers' money to build up government competition against any kind of business in days like these.

All the congressional leaders are understood to have been of the same opinion on the reorganization bill, including Senate Leader Barkley.

Before the White House meeting he made an agreement with Senator Byrd which in substance meant the death of the bill. Due to Byrd's well planned and alert leadership of the opposition forces, everyone knew it would be impossible to get the measure through.

However, some cabinet and house members were pressing hotly for the other point to bolster their anti-utilities campaigns. Barkley's public death notice asserted Mr. Roosevelt and the congressional leaders also had agreed on that, but it neglected to mention the lively differences of opinion which preceded the agreement.

Senators who hob-nob with the v. p. in the cloakrooms say he is deeply displeased with "just about everything that is going on also." When he speaks to them, he gets red in the face, clamps down on his cigar. The mildest gesture he has been accustomed to make lately is a disgustful shrug of the shoulders.

Most of the promises which are being made to consider legislation at the next session are accompanied by an invisible saltshaker.

The promise that processing taxes will be passed next year to reimburse the treasury the $212,000,000 it will pay out in farm bounties under the Russell amendment, the much saline searousing as any. The only thing it really means is that Senator Pope will again try to get his processing tax amendment through.

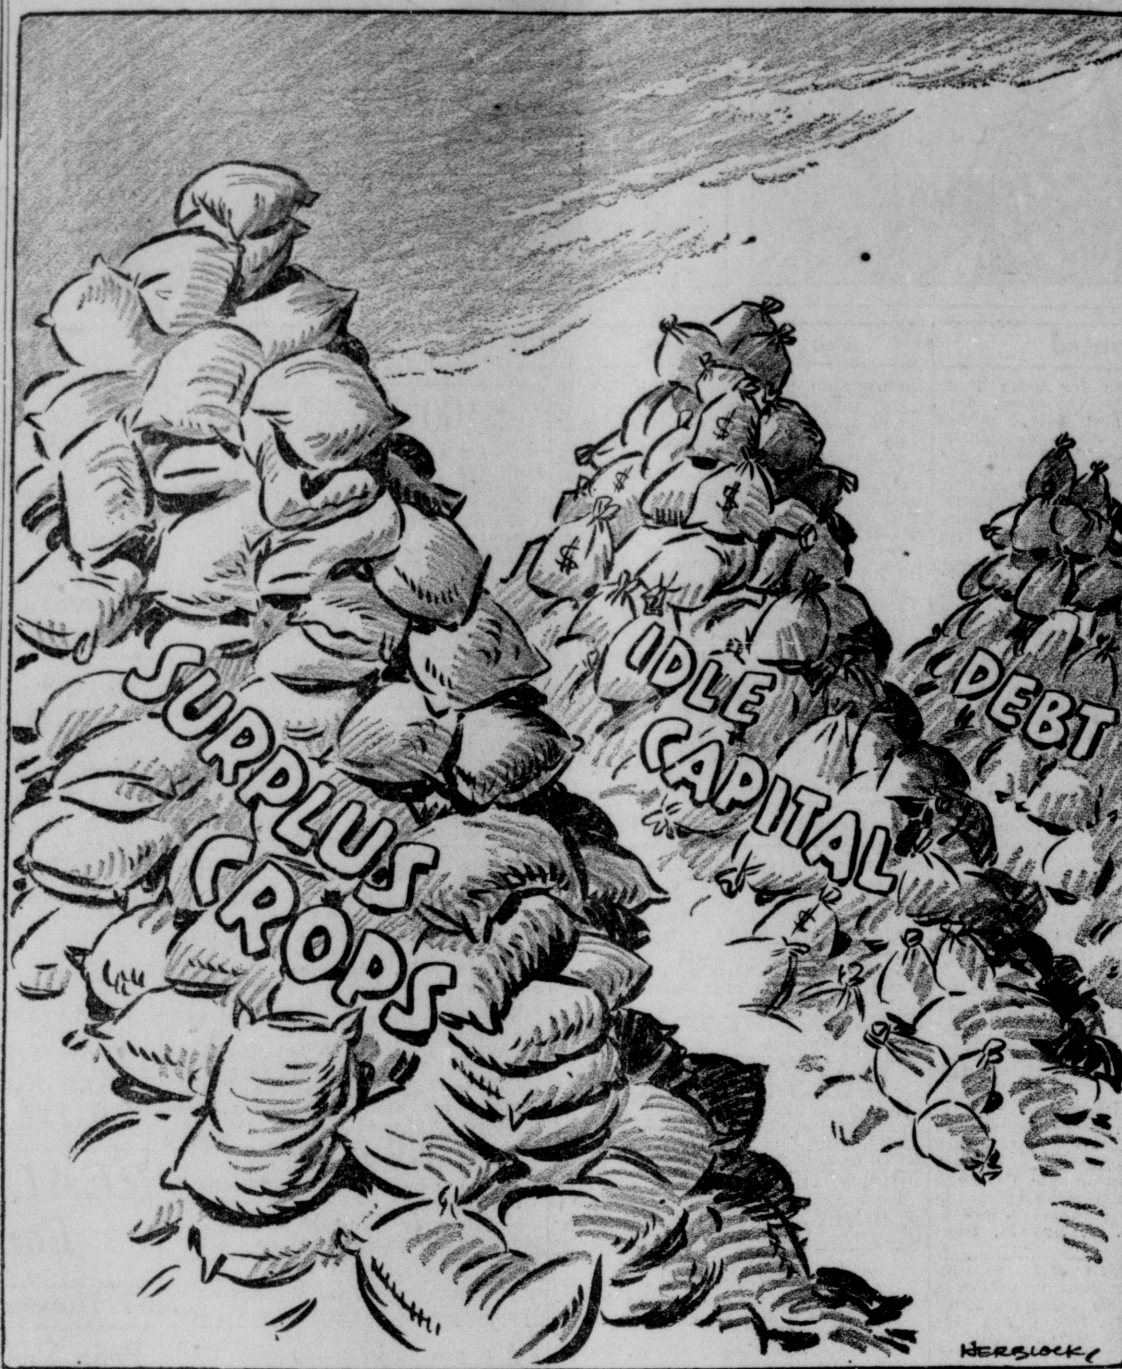

The promise was necessary to exempt this amendment from the general White House rule against further expenditures which fail to provide new means of revenue for raising the money.

The international chamber of commerce has quietly decided not to go to Tokyo this year for its scheduled general conference. It will go to Copenhagen instead. The inside on it is the Japs quietly requested that their invitation be withdrawn on account of the war. They were not particularly keen for having 1000 foreign business men around at this time.

The official inside word here is that Henry Ford will not agree to any shut-down in the motor industry. Copyright, 1938, McNaught Syn., Inc.

My Personal Opinion Is...

By Judd

Lots of folks aint got time to finger out some of these here editorials, so I thought I'd finger em out an tell ya what they mean so ya wont have to lay off from yer work. I had a lot of trouble figuring out that one about Tools been in Capital account of I always thought Capital was just some money ya give to some slicker to put to work fer ya, where ya dubbled it in 60 days, while ya just sit around an collect whut it earns without doin no work yerself, an I'd never had no Tools whut would do that fer me without me pushin em a little so it never occurred to me that Tools was Capital. But I finally figured it out, an whut the Editor relly means is, ya start out at the bottom in the beginnin, diggin with yer hands, an when ya accumulate more'n ya've consumed that's Capital, an ya invest it in a shovel so ya kin dig up the dirt in bigger chunks an that way did up more dirt than ya could with yer hands before ya got Capital! Now then if ya have bad luck and break yer shovel, then that's Capital consumed, an anything whut's consumed is gone forever an ya got to go back to work with yer hands account of ya got less, an if ya got less ya cant have more account of if ya take more whut ya got less, somebody else is gonna have less, so its—well its—aw nuts I aint got it either.

P. S.—Anyways its strictly according to Holle.—J.

Fellow Citizens:

Election is in the air. Who are the loyal statesmen? Who the politicians that merely keep an eye on the lucrative side of their job, the selfish advantages of entrusted public service.

True statesmanship is that rare quality of devoted service that does not seek its own, but rather that of the commonwealth. It stands on solid ground, abhorring waste, extravagance, pyramids of debt that mercilessly take its toll from capital and labor.

Statesmen like Glasgow, Washington, Lincoln stand out like beacons in a storm tossed world. With all their heart and soul they served their country and their God. They stood aloof from cheap glorification, of stirring up class hatred between employer and employee, capital and labor.

It is this utter disregard for the safety of a nation that ambitious leaders have used to their advantage in beguiling the masses to accept the European dictatorships. Having cobwebbed Europe with moth eaten guiles of social security they busied themselves by weaving their deluding nets of pernicious doctrine in other lands including our own.

It is up to our congressmen supported by their constituents to fight for the right, for the constitutional privileges of the individual, of minor groups, as well as the majority. That no longer we may be deluded by the fantastic promises of our executive, his useless panaceas and impractical re-

In Debt to Prosper?

By ELIOT JONES

Professor of Transportation and Public Utilities, Stanford University

The President's cure for the so-called recession, now recognized as a major depression, is pump-priming. He proposes to plunge the country even more deeply into debt, in the hope that we can "spend our way out of the depression."

Pump-priming is an old story with the administration. This policy was inaugurated soon after the President took office; and it was carried on with such enthusiasm and extravagance that the Federal Government in five years spent some thirty-five billion dollars—an almost incredible sum—business remained below normal three-fourths of the time, and at the close of the period suffered the most precipitate decline in the history of the country. Does this not furnish sufficient evidence that government spending is not the way to restore prosperity?

If there be any doubt on the point, ask yourself this question: during what period did the country build up its system of mass production, enabling living standards to be raised to heights theretofore regarded as quite unattainable? Was it during a period when the Government was attempting to spend its way into prosperity? Or was it during the period when the Government lived within its means, and gave encouragement to private enterprise and individual initiative? To ask the question is to answer it.

Pump-priming, therefore, is not the way out of our troubles. Pump-priming will either frighten away more private capital than the Government pours in, or it will lead to a temporary "inflation" boom which will be followed by another depression, requiring more government pump-priming, and in the end financial disaster. The remedy for our industrial ills lies in a reversal of government policies. Opinions will differ as to the details, but in general the program is clear. We should repeal the tax on undistributed net income—a tax that imposes heavy penalties on corporations that reinvest their profits in the business, and thus prevents them from expanding and giving employment to labor. We should amend the Wagner Act, which impairs confidence because of its one-sided character, and which is administered by a board conspicuous for its bias. We should impose some limit on government competition with the utilities, so that this industry, a large potential buyer of equipment, may be encouraged to expand. We should overhaul our wasteful relief system, and discontinue the use of government funds for the purpose of attracting votes and of rewarding and punishing Congressmen. And of especial importance, we should put our financial affairs on a sound basis.

Such a program would make it unnecessary for the Government to prime the pump of industry, by hazarding the national credit in another gamble with artificially induced prosperity. But such a program can be carried out only through determined action by Congress, backed by an informed electorate, for it is, alas, now perfectly clear that no help along these lines can be expected from the Chief Executive.

lief system that destroys the morale of our people, of industry and employment.

It is for us to watch and pray that we may not become a prey to the guiles of a political scheme for an all absorbing centralized government that eventually would end in tyranny.

Fellow Citizens:

If your young son was abducted and held for ransom, would you sit idly by, abiding by the proposed Federal Law to make it unlawful to pay ransom, and wait for the super snoopers to TRAIL abductors to their lair. Or would you take matters in your hands as all of the loving parents are doing?

Let's see if long winded "Shar-ing" has any up-to-date idea along this line.

I personally feel quite certain any one of the BIG SHOTS in the senate or elsewhere who are trying to put across their weird laws were in the same corner they would say "Tell with such an idea", at least until such a time as the laws of punishment were wide.

JOHNSON SAYS

WASHINGTON, D. C.—This column has never been noted for its boasting of ex-Governor Alf Landon. It opposed him in the last election—not so much for what he said or proposed as because of muddiness about what his party proposed. Before the Cleveland Republican convention, the Second New Deal had a regular St. Vitus dance case of genuine jitters. On all straw polls, and according to all observers, Mr. Roosevelt's popularity had taken its greatest slump. But you can't beat something with nothing. After the performance at Cleveland, it seemed clear to many that, regardless of what its candidate thought, the Republican party still believed that it was living in the good old days and that its election would result in an attempt to turn back the hands of the clock. That is not what the country wanted then and it is not what the country wants now. Mr. Landon got licked and, whether he deserved it or not, his party deserved it and, if they try the same thing again they will get licked again both in 1938 and 1940.

But at Niagara Falls last Saturday, Mr. Landon said precisely that. His was a great speech—a political document of primary importance. He said that an issue is taking shape very plainly in this country. That issue is whether American government shall, for the protection of the public, tell people what they may or may not do, which is the essence of Jeffersonian democracy; or whether it shall tell them—industry, agriculture, finance and labor all exactly alike—what they must do, which is of the essence of both fascism and communism. He also said that, in times like these, underprivileged people are more concerned with their bellies than they are with any theory of economic or political liberty.

That puts the case as this column has repeatedly tried to put it. That is the only issue—whether Americans want only so much governmental interference in their daily lives as will, as Jefferson said, "keep men from injuring each other" or whether they want to be told by some Washington theorist exactly what they must do every day from the rising of the sun to the going down thereof.

There can be little doubt of the theoretical answer—not one person in ten in this country wants to be goose-stepped by his government or anybody else. But, as Governor Landon intimated, if it is a question of something to put in the stomach with regimentation or nothing to eat with freedom, nobody is going to choose liberty to starve—Patrick Henry to the contrary notwithstanding. And it is a question between regimentation by great groups of private wealth in corporate form in which the people have no say, or regimentation by government in which the people have at least a vote, people will choose regimentation by government.

But, according to Mr. Landon—and this column heartily agrees—it is not necessary to make either choice—hateful regimentation by anybody. It seems quite clear that the real way to feed hungry stomachs is to release natural economic forces to maximum production which the Third New Deal has stifled. There would be no choice between regimentation by corporations and regimentation by government if government would only tell corporations exactly what they may and may not do, instead of telling both corporations and people what they must do.

That speech alone will not make this great and obvious issue clear but it helps to do so. The Republican party doesn't need Glenn Frank's committee to tell them what to do. Mr. Landon has stated the whole case. All that party needs to do is sincerely to make Mr. Landon's principles their creed and religion.

ALARMING DECLINE IN INTELLIGENCE

A few days ago, John A. Sexson of Pasadena, president of the American Association of School Administrators, told the National Congress of Parents and Teachers at Salt Lake City, that the national intelligence was declining nine per cent per generation. He said: "The average of intelligence must soon sink below the present 100 or middle point... to 90, 80, or even 70."

If acquired characteristics are not transmitted to offspring, then education does not raise the intelligence of a people. If this be true, then the only way the intelligence can be raised is by breeding, by having the intellectual people have more children and the least intelligent have fewer children.

But, we, as a government, are not encouraging this kind of a condition to come about; rather, we are discouraging the great middle class, from which usually the intellectual comes, to have fewer children because, by our laws and our customs, we are compelling them to work so hard for what they get, by taxing them indirectly to support the least fit who are selfish enough to acquire their wealth by combinations for restraint of trade so that they do not feel willing to bring children into the world.

In Orange county, where a man with five children can get $100 a month without working and if unskilled cannot earn more than $70 or $80, we are encouraging him to make a living by having children. This lowers the average intelligence instead of raises it. If Dr. Sexson's percentages are right, we are certainly losing our intelligence at a rapid rate.

FOUNDATION OF EDUCATION

We, in the United States, are spending more money on public education than any people in all the world and it is bound to be of little value because the very foundation of all education is being neglected.

We, in our schools, do not teach this fundamental principle of all human relations and this principle is that the Universal Rule is the Golden Rule—that no man, or group of men, should have special privileges.

And any other science that we might teach our youth will be of little value to society as a whole when this democratic fundamental principle of human relations and of education—the Universal Rule is the Golden Rule—is not instilled into the youth of our land.

Our sheltered educators do not understand it and are not teaching it. They are not really educators at all. Many of them are in the position, not because they have the spirit of educators, but because it is a pleasant way of making an easy living. If they were real educators, they would teach this fundamental principle whether the crowd or the mob agreed or not; they would teach it whether they could teach it with pay under a sheltered position of public instruction or whether they had to teach it as Socrates did, on the street corners by word of mouth.

GREATEST NATIONAL NEED

Speaking before a conference of industrialists in Los Angeles in a movement to concentrate national thinking on a sound American objective, W. B. Warner wisely pointed out it was time for business men and manufacturers to use the prestige they have in their community to spread true understanding of the American economic system to the people weary of promises.

He said, "Public understanding of our industrial civilization is today possibly our greatest national need."

This is what the column has been eternally preaching, in season and out of season. It is time that the people who advocate a reversal of all our former free enterprise principles be challenged to come out in the open and discuss their theories fearlessly and honestly. The trouble is that the leaders of this new dream invariably are either in educational institutions or churches advocating these doctrines under shelter and will not come out openly and above board and defend their theories.

And there is no one who is a bigger coward than the man who will get a position, such as the shelter of a public college or a church, and advocate a revolutionary philosophy and refuse to publicly discuss his position.

CALIFORNIA AND FEDERAL OIL LAWS

Few people realize that if the Federal Government succeeds in establishing the claim that the oil on the Pacific Coast belongs to the Federal Government that this would mean that there would be no private oil within a mile of the coast line.

This would be an amazing encroachment on the natural resources belonging to the state. It would seem just as fair for the Federal Government to say that the silver in Nevada along the rivers should belong to the Federal Government.

The natural resources are made of value only by human energy being expended in finding and using them. For the government to encroach on this right of discovery and the fruits of production, after they have been found by private interests at great expense, is to start another unfair method of competing with private enterprise, just as they have done in utilities and to a great extent on the railroads. It is a matter that the people of California, as well as the people all over the United States, should be interested in stopping. No country ever was great that did not permit the natural resources to be used by those who created their value.

COMPROMISES OUR TROUBLE

People invariably make the statement that the social order is a compromise.

Compromises are largely responsible for the condition we, in the United States, are in today. The only thing we can compromise on is selection of men to enact the principles of equality before the law. It is because we have compromised on the principles of democracy of equality before the law that this country is now in the worst condition, from a moral standpoint, that it has ever been in its history.
